BREMEN FLIERS GOING TO CAPITAL

UNIONTOWN MAN NEW ROTARY DISTRICT GOVERNOR

Flood Will Beat Relief to South, Will is Afraid

(Special To The News)

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 27.—I am just sitting here looking out over the Mississippi River and it's up pretty high. So I am just giving all my friends down South warning. Now it will take this raise a long time to reach away down there, ahead of government relief. So get ready, this water has got to go somewhere. Have your Fords made into amphibians.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

P. S.—It looks like the only thing can stop Hoover now is crooked politics. And it will just about do it.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc, emblematic of the typical New Castle citizen, is rather "puffed up" this morning. After hearing the hundreds of complimentary things that have been said by the visiting Rotarians during the past few days, over the facilities provided here for the convention, and the way it has been handled by the New Castle Rotarians, he's just about ready to pull off a celebration of some sort. New Castle has scored another distinct triumph in entertaining this convention, largely through the wonderful facilities that are provided by the Scottish Rite cathedral and The Castleton, and the ability to make use of them. New Castle has few rivals in the state in the matter of being able to take care of conventions at the present time, visitors to the city concede.

Workmen have completed the work of installing the new traffic light at the intersection of East and North streets. This has been a danger centre for traffic for some time, and the light will provide real safety. Likewise, being so close to the North street junior high school the traffic light will give greater safety to the pupils of the school.

Pa Newc notes that New Castle is the destination of numerous Sunday excursions advertised in Pittsburgh. Special rates are offered to Pittsburghers for the trip to New Castle and back, Sunday. Some years ago railroads abolished the excursion idea, but they are getting back to it rapidly. Pa Newc is of the opinion that it was a serious mistake on the part of the railroad companies to abandon the excursion idea when it was, as at that time, the competition from autos was just getting a start. The railroads now have the job of "beating back".

In a number of schools through the United States the idea of teaching aviation is being considered and in one or two a course in flying has actually been established. It probably will not be long before some of the students will be agitating the matter for New Castle.

Earl Lin Dilks, New Castle entry in the coast to coast marathon, is steadily plugging along. Dilks is making about a regular pace each day, and his friends here are confident that he will be among those to finish the race at New York, even though he does seem to be some distance behind the leaders in elapsed time at the present time.

With the spurt being taken in the matter of interest in aviation here, why not inaugurate a movement to get air mail service for New Castle? It should not be such a difficult thing to accomplish, as we are not far from the established air mail routes at the present time, and now have adequate landing fields. Here's an idea for the Chamber of Commerce.

The board that is counting the ballots cast in the recent primary election has rather a tedious task, Pa Newc would surmise. Hundreds of names were written in the primary ballots in addition to those that were officially printed, and all have to be properly recorded.

New Castle will be represented at the northwestern Pennsylvania musical contest to be held in Grove City next week by a number of musical organizations. Tonight, in the auditorium of the Benjamin Franklin

DELEGATES ENTHUSE OVER RECEPTION HERE

Next Convention City Will Be Designated Later This Afternoon

Harry Whyel, president of the Uniontown Rotary Club, will head the 33d district as district governor for the coming year. Just before the noon adjournment today in the Scottish Rite Cathedral Mr. Whyel was nominated for the post, and no other nominations were made. The vote was cast by the secretary and the election was over.

Technically Mr. Whyel will not be elected district governor until the recommendation of his election is made to the board of directors of Rotary international, but this is a formality which will not change the result of the action this morning of the delegates present.

Active in Rotary

Harry Whyel has been active in the work of the Uniontown Rotary club for a number of years. He has been particularly active in his attendance upon conventions and whether district or international can usually be found at the convention. In private life he is a coal operator and brick manufacturer.

The nomination of Mr. Whyel came as the concluding order of business for the morning session of the conference, and marks one of the two high spots of the conference. The other will come this afternoon when the next conference city is named.

Fail To Confirm Mine Seized By Sandino Rebels

State Department Without Information On Recent Seizure Of La Luz Mine

BY LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Although fifteen days have passed since the reported seizure of La Luz mine, in Nicaragua, and six days since announcement of the alleged seizure by the owners in New York, no confirmatory intelligence has been received by the State Department from either Minister Charles C. Eberhardt, at Managua, or Naval or Marine Corps Commanders in Nicaragua.

The coincidence of the reported "seizure" at the exact moment the senate was scheduled to begin consideration of a proposal to curb the President's authority to direct American forces into foreign territory is described by Senator Norris (R), of Nebraska, as "queer" and "amazing."

Norris has twice demanded on the senate floor that James Gilmore Fletcher, President of La Luz and Los Angeles Mining company, who announced the seizure last Saturday be summoned before the Senate Foreign Relations committee to disclose the basis of his reports.

Officials Mystified

Meanwhile, State Department and Navy officials are mystified by the failure of confirmation from their respective representatives in Nicaragua.

The State Department has wired Minister Eberhardt twice for information since Fletcher, a brother of Henry P. Fletcher, American Ambassador at Rome and former under-secretary of state, announced the mine seizure last Saturday. In each case,

GERMAN FLIERS' VISIT TO WASHINGTON UNOFFICIAL

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The visit of the German-Irish trans-Atlantic flyers to Washington late today is going to be very quiet, so quiet in fact that the United States government is not going to be officially aware of their presence at all.

The German ambassador formally requested the state department this morning to consider the impending visit as being made "incognito." He asked that no official recognition be accorded their presence in the capital overnight.

This procedure was decided upon for several reasons. One being the fact that the flyers' presence in Washington will be solely for the purpose of paying their tribute to Floyd Bennett, who sacrificed his life in an effort to aid them, and the general desire that no note of welcome or celebration should be injected into the simple, impressive services for the dead flyer.

More Than 1200 Rotarians At Conference Banquet In Cathedral Thursday

Twelve hundred and eighty-six Rotarians, their wives and guests heard Strickland Gilliland of Washington, D. C., known all over the United States as one of the best humorous lecturers, deliver an address at the banquet of the conference of the 33rd district of Rotary, which took place Thursday evening in the main and west dining rooms of the Scottish Rite cathedral. Charles F. Uhl of Somerset, Pa., present district governor, acted as toastmaster.

Many Cities Represented.

Long before 7 o'clock, the time at which the banquet started, Rotarians from all parts of western Pennsylvania who made the trip especially for the banquet began to arrive. They came in busses from Leechburg, Johnstown, Pittsburgh and cities closer to New Castle.

During the dinner, music was furnished by the New Castle senior high school orchestra of 65 pieces, directed by Professor LaVerne Irvine. As a special selection, the orchestra played the "Raymond Overture" by Thomas.

Women Get Gifts.

Immediately after the music, it was announced that a silver perculator, sugar and cream set, and two silver flower vases as first and second prizes, would be presented to the ladies who held the lucky tickets which were drawn from a box by John Boston, one of Lawrence county's Eagle scouts. The prizes, presented by Ralph Bolsinger of the New Castle works, National Radiator company, were won by Mrs. M. R. Caseman of Butler and Mrs. Delaney of Glassport. Both of the ladies came to the speakers table to be presented with the gifts, and expressed their thanks to Mr. Bolsinger.

Uhl Speaks.

Heard distinctly even in the most remote corners of the dining room because of the special system of amplification which had been installed during the afternoon by the M. & D. Radio company, District Governor Charles F. Uhl as toastmaster, made a few remarks.

"This is one of the most enjoyable evenings of my life," the governor stated. "It pleases me very much to be here, and to join with other Rotarians and their wives in a get-together such as this. When one puts on one of these paper hats, he immediately forgets all worries and becomes himself.

"But I cannot detain you. You

Mississippi Town Struck By Tornado

Report Heavy Damage In Mississippi As Tornado Descends

(International News Service)

JACKSON, Miss., April 27.—A terrific tornado tore through Jackson last midnight, sweeping west toward Vicksburg.

Property damage will run into thousands of dollars in Jackson alone. Trees were uprooted and houses unroofed in the suburbs.

Telephone service was seriously hampered and it was impossible to check the communities of Warren and Hinds counties where the heaviest damage was reported.

A train reaching Vicksburg this morning reported trees were blown across the tracks all along the route and on one occasion the train's engine was damaged when it struck a fallen tree.

The train crew reported the heaviest damage was between Jackson and Vicksburg.

No loss of life has been reported.

VIEWED BY THRONG IN ONE-HOUR PERIOD

Thousands Line Station Platform And Streets As Body Is Taken From Train

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 27.—On an army caisson draped with the stars and stripes, the body of Floyd Bennett was borne through the streets here today from the Grand Central depot to the Seventy-First Regiment armory. There, for one hour, the people of his home town—men, women and children—filed slowly past the flag-draped bier, paying a last sad tribute to the memory of the famous navy aviator.

The body, en route from Quebec, where Bennett died on Wednesday from pneumonia, for Washington, D. C., arrived at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Burial, with high military and naval honors, is to take place this afternoon at the Arlington National Cemetery, where so many of the nation's heroes have been laid to rest.

And while the funeral procession was being halted for New York City's homage, the three men for whom Bennett died—Fitzmaurice, Koehl and Von Huenefeld—were whirring overhead for Washington to attend the funeral. They hopped off from Lake St. Agnes, Quebec, at 7:10 o'clock this morning.

In Special Car

The body arrived on a special car. Aboard the train was the grief-stricken widow, Mrs. Cora Bennett, and the dead flyer's bosom friend, Commander Richard E. Byrd. It was with Byrd that Bennett achieved his great-

Congressman Drops Dead At Washington

(Bulletin)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Representative Martin B. Madden of Illinois, for many years one of the Republican leaders of the House, dropped dead this afternoon at the Capitol.

The veteran legislator, who was one of the little coterie that has dictated affairs in the House for years, expired without warning in his office in the appropriations committee room. He was chairman of that powerful committee.

Heart disease was ascribed as the cause of death. Madden had apparently been in good health and spirits during the earlier part of the day. He was stricken and died shortly before 1:45 p. m.

County Millage Rate Is Set By Commissioners

Rate For Year Is 7 1-2 Mills; Several Large Projects Under Way

WAMPUM VIADUCT LARGEST PROJECT

Provision Is Made For New Bridge Over Neshannock In City

County tax millage for 1928 was set by the county commissioners this morning at 7½ mills, of which 6½ is for county purposes and one for the county home. The millage is based on a valuation $75,000,000. The valuation slightly in excess of last notwithstanding that horses cattle were not assessed this year. The loss on horses and cattle was made up by new building.

The total millage is one mill higher than for 1927 when it was 5½ for county purposes and one mill for poor, making 6½ mills. Decision for a one mill raise was made by a two to one vote. County Commissioner T. J. McCullough favored seven mills and Commissioners P. O. Elder and Calvin Boyd 7½ mills.

Figures from the county treasurer's office showed that in January, 1928, there was $621,000 in the county treasury. This had been reduced on last Saturday to $428,000.

The 7½ mill tax on $75,000,000 will give $562,500. With the balance in the treasury on last Saturday of $428,000, the total for the year will be $990,500.

Some Large Projects.

There are some very large projects on this year which will require heavy expenditures. The county's share of the Wampum bridge will be $132,000. It was figured that this could be taken care of out of the money in the treasury, but there are a number of other big projects, including the erection of bridges at Kennedy's mill and East Brook and extensive repairs to the Pulaski, Hilltown and lesser repairs to other bridges. Provision is also made for building one bridge in the city this year, either the Lawrence street or the North street.

In addition to structural repairs on bridges provision is made for painting ten or more bridges.

Some of the other items to be paid this year will be $63,931 interest on outstanding bonds. There will also be $87,000 worth of bonds to be redeemed.

Some other large items are assessing

Bennett's Burial To Be Impressive

Body To Arrive At Washington At Three O'clock This Afternoon

BURIAL WILL TAKE PLACE AT ARLINGTON

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The capital's most impressive military funeral since the burial of Leonard Wood was arranged today for Warrant Officer Floyd Bennett, U. S. N., whose heroic death while on a daring errand of relief has caused worldwide sorrow.

The body, scheduled to arrive at 3 o'clock this afternoon, will be taken immediately to Arlington National cemetery by a naval escort, to be buried in a plot close by the resting place of Admiral Pearly, the arctic trail-blazer whose exploits in the frozen waste-lands were so long the inspiration of the dauntless young airman.

Although Secretary of the Navy Wilbur is in Richmond, Va., to fill a previous engagement, a large group of high naval officers were assigned places in the cortage across the potomac to the Arlington hills. Aviation Secretaries Warner, Davison and McCracken of the navy, war and commerce departments and Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of naval aeronautics, were among the officials

Bridge Watchman Held For Murder

State Police Prefer Charge Against Watchman, Exonerated By Coroner's Jury

(International News Service)

MONACA, Pa., April 27.—Exonerated by a coroner's jury which investigated the death of an unidentified man found shot after a fight at a railroad bridge near here last week, C. T. Perault of Beaver, bridge watchman today faced a charge of murder.

The charge was brought by the state police after Perault had testified before the coroner's inquest that he shot the stranger after he had broken the hand of Ivestor Brown, another watchman, drawn a revolver and chased Perault.

Perault was released on $3,000 bail.

International News Service Special Correspondent

HILLSIDE VIEW, Missouri, April 27.—C. C. "Cross Country" Pyle's bunion derbyists stepped back into centers of population today as they moved from here 33 miles through St. Louis across the Mississippi river bridge and to their fifty-fifth control at East St. Louis, Illinois.

Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England, led the pack through the 45.6 mile lap from Sullivan, finishing in 6:11:11. His elapsed time for the 2057.8 miles from Los Angeles was 343:20:06, thus giving him a lead of one hour, forty-nine minutes, thirty-five seconds over Ed Gardner, Seattle. Phillip Granville, Jamaica negro of Hamilton, Ontario, who before the start at Sullivan predicted that he "would run the legs off the Englishman," led through the first thirty-five miles but weakened and finished second, eleven minutes behind. His elapsed time was 333:03:22.

St. Louis, Missouri, will get but a fleeting glimpse of the Pyle Caravan, the sister city on the Illinois side being awarded the night control when the promoter and their local committee were unable to agree on the financial terms for the noctural appearance.

Earl Dilks, New Castle, Pa., negotiated yesterday's lap in 8:47:37, bringing his elapsed time to 501:22:10.

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., April 27.—The German-Irish trans-Atlantic flyers, Captain Herman Koehl, Baron Gunther von Huenefeld and Major James E. Fitzmaurice, landed here at 1:50 this afternoon in the Ford relief plane in which they hopped off from Lake St. Agnes, Quebec, at 7:10 this morning.

Over Albany

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—Flying high on the eastern side of the Hudson river, a plane believed to be carrying the Bremen crew passed over Albany at 12:01 p. m.

The plane apparently was following the Hudson river. It was estimated that it would reach New York city shortly after 1 o'clock.

It was expected that several planes from New York would meet the trans-Atlantic fliers somewhere in the air between here and New York.

Observers at the Albany airport said the plane appeared to be flying at a rate of more than 100 miles an hour.

Steal Trunk; Secure $2,000

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 27.—Three masked men escaped with a trunk containing nearly $2,000 in cash early today after they forced their way into a home here and choked Mrs. H. Giebel, she reported to police.

Using a fence post, the men battered down the door, carried out the trunk and then drove away in an auto truck, Mrs. Giebel said.

Every day this verse must go, sometimes easy, sometimes hard, rhyming comes and goes at times, some days one can write a yard. Thoughts come rushing to the brain, tumbling over in their haste, some days none can be induced, no matter how much time we waste. But good or bad, and fast or slow, the rhyme must be in type by noon, rhymes on weather, rhymes on love, rhymes on snow and gentle June. Rhymes on cars that will not run, tires that go most awful flat, rhymes on dresses, shoes and hose, rhymes on some one's new spring hat. But today the words come slow, hardly know just what to say, guess I'll quit and let it go, weather's forty-eight today.

Aged Civil War Nurse Is Dead In Pittsburgh

Last Member Of Sister Nurses In Civil War Dies In Pittsburgh Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 27.—The last of the sister nurses in the Civil war, Sister Madeleine O'Donnell, is dead here today. A member of the mercy order in Mt. Mercy Academy for 68 years, she was one of the oldest nuns in the United States and the oldest member of the order here.

Sister Madeleine was born in Ireland and came to the United States when a child. She was at one time head of Mercy hospital and was credited with having been responsible for a large part of the growth of that institution. She served as a nurse throughout the Civil war.

OVER 1,200 ROTARIANS ATTEND CONFERENCE BANQUET THURSDAY

have coming the last course of the banquet, and it is a good course. Scarcely do I know what to call it, so it shall be dubbed brains garnished with tongue. The speaker is Strickland Gilliland, whom you all know.

Gilliland Addresses Diners.

"Why I am a Rotarian," formed the first part of the humorous speech by Mr. Gilliland.

"You know," he stated, "for a long time I held off and did not join the club, although I must confess that when I felt human, I felt like a Rotarian. I always wanted to be one, but I just held off.

"Finally, on a one-horse railroad up in northern Michigan, I saw the light. It was snowing, and the train was stranded. Try as we could, no progress could be made, and it was there that I resolved to join the Rotary club the next chan[illegible] were rescued by a r[illegible] plow."

Mr. Gilliland continued in this vein with his pleasant drawl, and told what he branded as the oldest jokes in a way that provoked Homeric laughter and enthusiastic outbursts of applause. Anecdote piled up on anecdote. Names like that of William Bryan and James Whitcomb Riley were used, and all were personal experiences of the speaker. Alternately he congratulated and hammered his audience, but no one cared. He had a good time doing it, and they too could see the point to his quips.

Once in a while the familiar essayist of oratory, underneath his mask of levity, would wax serious, and that is when his audience would laugh the loudest.

"Rotary always has been, and always will be," he averred, "because it is based on an inflexible principle: the Golden Rule. Rotary is a label. It is the label of an ideal, and that ideal is service. We might say that Rotary is the ideal. I believe it is. Then it will outlast man, for at the best, man is but a temporary label pasted on an ideal. And we never must forget the ideal which we represent."

Mr. Gilliland concluded in a whimsical vein, calling attention to the fact that he was a family man, and as he never before had seen so many women in a listening attitude, he was loath to leave.

"The found of applause which you received is a justifiable tribute to your power and talent, Mr. Gilliland," declared Governor Uhl, when he congratulated the humorist on his address.

Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, Texas, first vice president of Rotary International, was a guest at the banquet and among others seated at the speakers' tables were W. Charles Wallace, president of the New Castle Rotary club and president of Westminster college, and Carl Paisley, secretary of the New Castle Rotary club and conference secretary.

Thousands of people crowded into the Grand National and lined the streets from the depot to the armory. It was a silent, reverent throng, and the authorities experienced no difficulty maintaining order. Squads of mounted police patroled the streets, and five hundred uniformed policemen were on duty in the railroad station.

The funeral procession moved slowly from the depot to the armory. On each side of the army caisson which bore the body marched eight armed sailors in uniform. They were followed by one full company of the 71st regiment, national guard; a company of the 16th infantry and about 50 uniformed sailors from the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Representing the city of New York was Grover Whalen, head of the mayor's reception committee to distinguished guests.

Mrs. Bennett and Byrd left immediately for the Biltmore Hotel, where they were to remain until after the public paid its respects at the armory. At nine o'clock the doors of the armory were barred to the public and the room in which the coffin lay was reserved for a private service attended by the aviator's relatives and close friends.

Planes Drop Tributes.

Park avenue was black with people as the funeral procession slowly wended its way to the armory. The spectators were 20 deep back of the curbstones, and hundreds viewed the procession from windows of the buildings along the route. The mournful music of the Sixteenth Infantry band accentuated the sadness of the occasion.

Four seaplanes from the Rockaway Point naval air station dropped floral tributes over the procession. Flags which would have greeted Bennett if he had lived to pilot the Bremen fliers back from Greenely island were at half mast throughout the city.

A few minutes after 8 o'clock the cortege arrived at the armory. The body was taken to the private room of Colonel Walter Allen De Lamater, commanding officer of the 71st regiment, National Guard. The coffin was decorated with flowers from many friends, a particularly large bouquet having been sent by the mayor's committee. Then the public was admitted.

The casket, placed upon a catafalque, was all but concealed by the high-banked flowers, tributes from the city of New York, from the federal government, the Brooklyn navy yard, many flyers who had known Bennett, and friends.

Thousands View Body.

In a seemingly unending procession, the waiting mourners passed into the building at the Thirty-Fourth street entrance, took a brief glimpse at the dead flyer, and then shuffled out at Thirty-Third street. Thousands had collected outside the armory and the stream was an incessant one.

At 9 o'clock the armory was closed to all but the honor guard and the family and close friends of the dead aviator. Mrs. Bennett, herself seriously ill; his aged mother, Mrs. Henrietta Bennett; a step-daughter and Commander Byrd and Mrs. Byrd were then admitted to the death room. A few minutes before this hour Mrs. Bennett, the widow, had returned from her home in Brooklyn, where she had gone to obtain her husband's naval uniform which he will wear when buried in Arlington cemetery this afternoon.

Brief services were conducted by Daniel A. Poling, president of the Church Federation of Greater New York. He read a few verses from Psalms and then delivered a short memorial sermon.

The casket was then closed and the procession, reforming before the armory, began a march to the Pennsylvania station.

Many Floral Tributes.

It is estimated that between 6,000 and 8,000 persons viewed the body at the armory. Among the many wreaths of flowers banking the casket was one from the city of Plattsburgh, the dead flyer's former home. The mayor of Troy, N. Y., sent another; Albany's mayor another, and there were many bouquets from posts of the American Legion.

Great crowds congregated all along the route from the armory to the Pennsylvania station. At the station every available vantage point was occupied. There the body was lifted from the caisson and carried into the train yard. Relatives, including Mrs. Bennett, the widow; the dead flyer's mother and his brother, Leroy Bennett, went to a special car aboard the train. The mourning party included Commander Byrd and Mrs. Byrd.

MISSIONARY WORK IS PRESENTED TO DELEGATES HERE

at this time. H gave a brief talk on "Faith To Go Forward". He stressed the fact that the Christian church must obey and go forward to evangelize and Christianize the world. The need is great for home missionary work.

Mrs. W. P. Felch sang very beautifully the solo number "An April Evening". A trombone duet by Kenneth Myers and Edgar Beal was also much enjoyed.

Friday Morning

The Friday morning session opened with the Foxburg Auxiliary leading the devotionals. Miss Webster gave a most interesting talk on the work of the Mercy Center of teaching the girls the fundamentals of their life work. She also spoke of obtaining new members and getting capable officers.

Different phases of missionary work were discussed by Mrs. Myrtle Skiff and Mrs. O. O. Bashline, each giving a brief summary of their own individual work. Mrs. W. J. Smith spoke on "Our Task", telling of the budget and finances of the society.

The afternoon session was marked by the installation of the new officers by the conference president, Mrs. C. G. Farr. The work of the Irene Maitland Home in this city was presented by Mrs. Sara Steen and the activities of the Ruth M. Smith Home at Sheffield, Pa., was given by Mrs. Fred Eaton.

Banquet Tonight

A young people's banquet will be held this evening at 5:30. About one hundred are expected to attend. Rev. S. L. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, will make the address.

A special feature of the evening session will be a missionary pageant entitled "Janey", which will be given by the American Queen Esthers. Those taking part in the pageant include Henrietta Emerick, Mildred Tindall, Harriet Truby, Helen Anderson, Bernice Schoolcraft, Doris Tackett, Dorothy Johnson.

Miss Webster will also give an address this evening.

Commander Byrd, collaborator with Bennett in the first airplane flight over the North Pole, will accompany Mrs. Bennett from New York for the burial services.

Coincident with the announcement of the navy's plans for the funeral came the official announcement that Bennett's application for eighteen months leave of absence for this summer's Byrd flight to the South Pole had been granted.

Mrs. Bennett will ride to Arlington in President Coolidge's limousine. The president himself ordered the car sent to Union station to meet her.

All navy enlisted personnel in Washington, numbering about 200 men, will form an escort for Bennett. Under navy regulations Bennett, under his rank, would be entitled only to 25 men, but the regulations were waived by the department.

The body will be met at the station by an enlisted bodyguard of eight men and six pallbearers.

The funeral cortege will be met at the gates of Arlington by high ranking naval officers and the navy band.

Rev. E. L. Smith, pastor of the Norfolk, Va., Christian church, will officiate at the burial. He was the Bennetts former pastor and was selected by Mrs. Bennett.

Taps will be sounded over the grave by George De Georgio, solo cornetist of the navy band.

FAIL TO CONFIRM MINE SEIZURE BY SANDINO REBELS

Eberhardt replied that nothing more substantial than "rumors" were available.

No official comment upon the situation was available at the State Department, although Fletcher had conferred with Secretary Kellogg over long distance telephone Monday, and was reported to have visited Washington on Tuesday. He did not see officials at the State Department, however.

Late Wednesday, after a feverish debate in which the unconfirmed news dispatches from New York and Nicaragua were read on the floor, the Senate rejected the amendment which would have withdrawn all Marines from Nicaragua next February.

Report Marshall Slain

Twenty-four hours later, the first official communique came from the State Department, in the form of a message from Minister Eberhardt, reporting the accumulated content of all previous news dispatches on the alleged seizure, tied together with the statement—"The Minister adds that it is extremely difficult to obtain any reliable information."

George B. Marshall, of New York, assistant superintendent of the Lu Mine, was reported by the mine officers in New York on Tuesday, as having been slain by the bandits. Eberhardt's report makes no mention of any American killed.

The State Department does not consider Eberhardt's message in any way confirmatory of the mine officers' reports of "seizure", or of Marshall's reported death.

DOLLAR DAY LUNCHEON AT FIRST BAPTIST

Baskets of spring flowers formed an attractive and colorful decoration for the annual Dollar Day Luncheon of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church, Thursday.

Luncheon was served in the church dining room at 1 o'clock with covers arranged for 125. Each of the eight sections into which the society is divided sat at their own respective tables. Special guests were Mrs. James Mitchell, Mrs. Hannah Waddington, Mrs. Kenneth Williams, Mrs. William Elmore, Mrs. J. A. Perry and Miss Mary Brown.

The afternoon hours were devoted to the hearing of reports from the various sections for the work accomplished during the year. The president, Mrs. W. H. Williams, presided. The total amount of money raised during the year amounted to $1,158.64, section Eight having given the greatest amount.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. C. C. Adams, a returned missionary from Egypt, who is in this country on furlough, residing for the present at New Wilmington. Mrs. Adams has spent fourteen years on the United Presbyterian mission field in Egypt. Her husband is a professor in one of the schools there. Mrs. Adams who has a most pleasing personality held her audience with the closest attention. She told of the education of the natives in the literary and medical schools and of their great desire to learn in order that they might teach their own people.

The next meeting of the society will be held Thursday evening, May 10, at the church. Section Six will have charge of the program and will present a play.

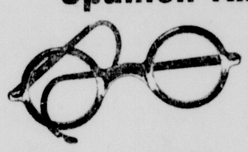
Didn't Glasses Help Win the Spanish-American War?



Thirty years ago next Saturday (April 21) the Spanish-American War began. The decisive battle was at San Juan—where Roosevelt won fame.

COULD any other man have lead the Americans against such resistance as San Juan? Could Roosevelt have done it without his GLASSES?

Men who wear glasses are doers of big things. Roosevelt said, "My first glasses literally opened up a new world to me."

Are YOUR eyes missing much of the beauty of the world? Aren't you letting poor vision rob you of joy, health and efficiency? Come today for an eye examination.

BOOMERANG POSTAL RATES

INCREASED rates are not synonymous with increased revenue. Either is possible without the other, but higher rates are not always productive of greater revenue. Some street railways companies learned this during the war period when they sought to increase their earnings by jumping the five-cent fare to six or more cents, with a resultant loss of business that exceeded the increased revenue from the rate increase.

The post office department has gone through a similar experience during the last several years. In order to provide revenue to grant a pay increase to postal employes, congress, with administration approval, increased certain postal rates. Instead of producing the needed additional revenue, the higher postal rates so reduced the volume of the class of mail affected that the department's revenue was diminished. Now Postmaster General New wants the old rates restored to stimulate business. It is not unlikely that restoration of the old and lower rates, by boosting business, will produce the revenue which the higher rates could not.

When congress changed the postal rates the doubling of the postcard rate, increasing it from one to two cents, seemed especially ill-advised. Immediately there was a tremendous curtailment of this sort of mail matter, many finding they could send a letter for the same postage as a card, and travelers and vacationists finding the custom of mailing postcards in great numbers too expensive.

BIRDS AND SYMPHONIES

BIRDS, according to a Chicago woman who has been studying bird life, are the composers of most of the world's music. She is quoted as saying that the greatest operas any symphonies are "based entirely on the songs of birds."

It may be that musical themes in some famous pieces have been borrowed from feathered musicians without credit. This lady bird-student, for example, traces to the spring song of the robin the "Flower Song" from "Faust". Notes of the meadow lark and other birds may be found in other airs. Belief in her theory weakens a little, though, when she tells of having once heard a meadow lark sing, very distinctly, "The Campbells Are Coming", and credits the cardinal with "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Confidence in this critic's judgment slumps, too, when she calls the cardinal's song the "most exquisite". Gloriously bold and uplifting it is, but for "exquisiteness" most lovers of bird music would probably go to the wood or hermit thrush in the North and the mocking bird in the South.

When she ranks next in exquisiteness the "song" of the blue-jay, we quit right there, before she starts praising the musical beauty of the crow, the English sparrow or the loon.

PRESIDENTIAL YEARS

PRESIDENT MADDEN, of New York University, has produced figures to disprove the tradition that presidential election years are always poor business years. The public has anticipated a business slump in a presidential year because it supposed business to be cautious when the political situation is uncertain.

As a matter of record, out of thirty-four presidential election years fourteen were periods of great prosperity, eleven found the nation in a state of business depression and nine were normal with but the least feeling of uncertainty.

In the days when the tariff was a real national issue and a presidential election decided whether there would be four years of free trade or tariff protection there was something for business to view with apprehension. Greenbackism, Populism and their legitimate descendant, Bryanism, were enough to strike terror into national finance and to stifle industrial and commercial enterprise.

This year the national election can have no effect upon business conditions. The tariff is not at issue. There is no radical third party movement and the two major parties are not at war on any question that can injure or help business.

Dean Madden disagrees with those who blame the presidential election for the increase in unemployment that ushered in this year. Moreover, he predicts that, notwithstanding its being a presidential year, 1928 will retrieve its early months and make a normal record of prosperity by Christmas.

TRY PICKING DANDELIONS

HEREWITH is offered a mild suggestion to persons who, while enjoying a country outing, are unable to differentiate between the beauties of a protected field of wild flowers and the desolation of a field which has been stripped and left to weeds and grass by the wayside vandals. If they must pick something which does not belong to them, let them try picking dandelions.

The flower of that ubiquitous weed, we are told, though we haven't tried it, forms the base of a beverage. The leaves, we know by experience, can form one of the most wholesome and appetizing vegetable dishes known to modern cookery. It is the spinach with a kick.

And no one will begrudge their passing. Vandals may exercise their most destructive inclinations against the dandelion. Tear them up, root and branch. Bedeck the automobiles with them. Throw them into a boiling caldron. Serve them with oil or vinegar. Eat them alive. Do your worst—to the dandelion. But let the wild flowers live.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

"Aw shut up!" growled the hotel owner. "I'm struggling with the help problem, too, but you don't hear me yellin' about it."

A few days ago we were driving our bus us North Mill street and our owner's license card and light inspection sheet had been stuck in the wiper on the windshield. The wind blew them away. A gentleman brought in the inspection blank and we did not get his name. Yesterday morning our good friend Robert Trotter, superintendent of the local office of the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co., brought in the owner's card which he found. We certainly appreciate the kindness of these gentlemen.

LOGICAL CONCLUSION

Young wife: "I'm afraid, dear, my pie is not what it should be. I think I must have left something out."

Husband (with a grimace, after sampling it): "There's nothing you could leave out that would make it taste like that. It must be something you put in."

No flyer will ever equal the reputation of Col. Lindbergh if he flies to the moon and back. That chap has a hold on the heart strings of Americans that he can hold as long as he wants to and he is no high hat or snob. He will fly anywhere to help anybody. That's the spirit—helping the other guy.

Be Kind to New Ideas.
Miss Congo's Insides.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

It was said of one, long dead, "he never feared the face of any man". Floyd Bennett, the American flier who died Wednesday, never feared the face of death. He died in a noble effort to help others. The respect and admiration of all his countrymen are his. Life could have given him no more had he lived 100 years.

Above New York Wednesday, in a tri-motor Fokker airplane, flew George Young, publisher of the Los Angeles Examiner, and other good Californians. Maj. Mosley of Los Angeles, was pilot. The Western Air Express, owning the machine, will start carrying passengers from ocean to ocean.

Mr. Young found the Atlantic Ocean small, was sorry to see that New York lacks Los Angeles' possibilities of expansion, but was otherwise well pleased with Los Angeles' eastern rival.

On the same ship, Berengaria, sailed William Randolph Hearst Jr. on his honeymoon. William Randolph Jr. will go to work on the New York American. He and the older Schwab, talking of "Bessemer", might meditate on the importance of taking new ideas kindly.

At a convention of British steel makers a man once read a paper on a new way of making steel. The convention voted to strike his remarks from the records to save their meeting from ridicule. The man's name was Bessemer, and he revolutionized the steel business.

Dr. Green, in Jacksonville, dissecting the remains of "Miss Congo", female gorilla, said "her inner organs could not be distinguished from those of a 12- or 14-year-old girl."

Colitis, common among humans, killed "Miss Congo" and cost John Ringling $150,000, the gorilla's value.

"Miss Congo's" brain was "equal to that of a child six or seven years old." Johns Hopkins scientists will examine the gorilla lady and tell more about her.

Fundamentalists should not let her resemblance to a human female disturb their faith. A piece of glass looks like a diamond, but isn't one. "Miss Congo" has no soul. At least, that's the white man's theory.

Albert Loewenstein, Belgian banker, in America to do a little business, brings a few counts and countesses with him, also four secretaries, two stenographers, chauffeur, private detective, airplane pilot, masseur and about 20 maids and valets.

Loewenstein, said to be "the third richest man in the world", has more maids and valets than John D. Rockefeller, George F. Baker, Secretary Mellon, Henry Ford and some other Americans, all put together, but he probably hasn't as many dollars as they have.

Secretary Hoover and Governor Smith are "cleaning up" the political field. Ohio is for Smith and Hoover. Massachusetts is for Smith and Hoover.

New York is 100 per cent sure for Smith, and Hoover will have New York, although some big Wall streeters do not want him.

Perhaps they fear he would spend too much on public improvements, canals, roads, etc.

In Ohio 24,000 men and women took the trouble to write Governor Smith's name on the ballot, indicating he has a big personal following far from his own state.

Racing on the sand of Daytona Beach in his Black Hawk special speed car, going more than 200 miles an hour, Frank Lockhart blew out a rear tire. His car bounced 300 feet, "turned several somersaults" and landed upside down. Lockhart was killed.

This unfortunate death of a daring automobile racer is a warning to those who indulge in excessive speed. The air, not the ground, is the place for speeding.

Speed Madness

Two months ago Frank Lockhart, a noted automobile racer, was trying to beat the speed record on the beach at Daytona, Fla., when his machine escaped control and dashed into the sea. Lockhart missed drowning by a hair's breadth. Wednesday, driving the same car, he again lost control, and this time his life was offered up as the latest sacrifice to speed madness.

Lockhart was out to beat the new record of 207.6 miles an hour set on the same beach but three days earlier by Ray Keech. It will be hard to convince his family and friends—it should be difficult to convince anybody—that the object was worth the costly sacrifice.

High speed in the air is fairly safe if the plane holds together; there is room to manoeuvre if anything goes wrong. But there is no place on the surface of the earth where speed surpassing 200 miles can be used in a practical way, either now or in any easily imaginable future.

At that rate the slightest mishap is likely to prove fatal to the driver. Nor are spectators safe. Herd them 300 feet from the course, and the car if deflected might be among them in one second; at 600 feet in two seconds.

It may be of scientific value to know of what the modern automobile engine is capable. Experiments made to determine its capacities can be made in shop practice more accurately than on road or beach. Special roads may be constructed to permit of automobile speeds higher than at present are possible; such roads, though increasing risk, may prove useful. We cannot foresee the time when an auto speed of 200 miles an hour will be anywhere practicable in use.—New York World.

HAND SHAKING

Mr. Coolidge President of the United States, shook hands steadily the other day for one hour and five minutes, for the benefit of those who could say to the home folks, "Well, I shook hands with the President." There were 2,380 of them.

This was some job, even if it was something of a grab and move on affair.

Shaking hands with so many people so rapidly doesn't give a President time to spend many moments with an individual.

President Roosevelt was considered the champion handshaker, but President Coolidge has eclipsed him.

Sometime ago, after a hand-shaking spree, he wore bandages on his hands for several days. This time, however, fortunately, no damage was done.

But why the hand-shaking? Of course the purpose is a good one. The President wants to be a good fellow and to show he is not above speaking to a common man.

But anybody with any sense ought to know that, and they ought further to realize that for him even to take a minute off from his official duties to pay attention to the common man would leave him no time for his legitimate work, because there are so many common men.

The President is employed for a specific purpose. He has work to do. He is our hired man and wants to do his job.

But he cannot do this if he is constantly called away from it to be nice to us.

He is supposed to labor with his head and not his hands. We could hire a hand-shaker at two or three dollars a day, but we are paying the President much more for his head work. He ought to be given a chance to do it well.

He might rig up some sort of automaton that would do his hand shaking for him, or in some other way relieve himself of the hard manual labor engaged in placating the citizens.

Without any desire to have our President "chesty" or stuck up, we insist that he be relieved from the duties of hand shaking and baby kissing.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ANOTHER COLLEGE PROBLEM.

While Colleges and Universities are making rules forbidding the students to have and use motor cars while in attendance and in pursuit of a scholastic degree, the world moves on.

When the older generation of Yale men were graduated, nothing could have been farther from their thoughts as they sat around on the Green outside of Certer church in New Haven, that that students of the small Yale College beyond them would some day be flying over Center Church in machines heavier than the air. This has still to happen. But the time will not be long delayed. Flying is now approaching a commonplace in the outside world and soon will come to be so at the colleges.

The other day, for instance, an inconspicuous placard in the Yale Post Office called together for a meeting all Yale students interested in the new sport. The ever-watchful eye of the Freshman Registrar discovered it. Wily and experienced in the ways of Freshmen, he thought it well to investigate before something unexpected happened and his flock unanimously soared away some week-end.

It turned out that a Yale Aero Club was in process of forming, that it was proposed to have machines on hand at Bethany Field just outside of the city, and that a capable instructor was to come down from Hartford to explain the ropes. All this was all very well. In fact highly interesting. Very much so. But it was a new problem, one in which many Yale parents might conceivably have a mild interest.

So far as it is known, the new Club is still forming and all wish it well. It's a new world in which we live and Old Fogeys are not of it. But the Faculty are considering under what rules such a club ought to function, if student life and limb and the sanctity of New Haven roofs are to be considered.

To have the undergradute body in the air in any numbers at one time is likely to raise a new set of circumstances which the present inexperience of Yale Faculty is at some loss to envisage.

GOING ON.

The president of a great steel company says: "To advance in any of life's endeavors it is necessary both to study and to think. Achievement is possible to those who have the initiative and determination to equip themselves with knowledge. This requires application and study continued beyond the period of formal school and college courses. But it brings practical results in cultural as well as vocational accomplishment.

Note especially that advancement along your line calls for study beyond the period of school and college. The man who no longer thinks he has to study his trade or his job, is not the one that knows it all. He is the one who is so ignorant that he doesn't realize how little he knows.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

THE GREATEST

W. C. Bowers, St. Paul, Minnesota, writes me: "The greatest living persons (for many are equally great) are the mothers who bear and rear families of great men and women."

There is something to be said for that point of view, certainly. Perhaps we'll find time and space in which to say something for it later.

* * *

W. E. Betts, Valley Falls, Rhode Island, writes: "The greatest living man is the one who has done the most for others. I think Henry Ford is the man. He has shortened the working day, raised the standard of living, added to the pleasure of millions."

* * *

Jeannie L. Wade, Mount Vernon, Indiana, nominates Lindbergh as the greatest living person. She writes: "Everyone will admit that peace is the most necessary thing in the world today. Lindbergh, working for peace, has been modest, unassuming and fearless, and remains unaffected by praise, flattery and glory. We have to believe that in all his perilous journeys he has been under divine guidance."

* * *

M. W. Cook, South Bend, Indiana, chooses Thomas A. Edison as greatest of all. He writes: "His influence has been constructive and for the good of all mankind. It has revolutionized industry and commerce, and made home life comfortable. Blot out his influence, and the world is dark and chaotic. His influence will be felt increasingly as long as the world shall stand."

* * *

These letters about the greatest living person are much more interesting and sensible than I had expected them to be. I hope I'll have more of them.

Speaking of letters, I still receive a good many from persons who have seen ball lightning. And some of my most delightful letters are from persons who formerly lived in Kansas. Learning that I also once lived there, these former Jayhawkers write me their memories and impressions of the romantic prairie land. These letters come from all parts of the country, and they really ought to be printed in a book as the perfect tribute to a much-loved native state.

Alice Stapleton, Malverne, Long Island, writes me an entertaining letter about life in Kansas in the days of Sockless Jerry Simpson. It was Sockless Jerry, you know, who said in congress, "What do we want a navy for; to plow corn with?"

That made a tremendous hit in Kansas when corn was ten cents a bushel and the ocean was more than a thousand miles away.

Human Race Is In Its Infancy, Scientist Tells

BY J. C. OESTREICHER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 27. — Astonishing figures illustrating the age of the earth, the size of the universe and the radiation of energy from the stars, were given by Dr. J. H. Jeans, secretary of the Royal Society, in a recent lecture before the Royal Society of Arts here.

Among the most remarkable of his computations were the following:

The life in front of the human race is so enormous that humanity must be regarded as a three-days' old infant who had yet to reach three score years and ten.

So numerous are the stars in the universe that the same number of grains of sand spread over England would make a layer hundreds of yards in depth. Our earth is one-millionth part of such a grain of sand.

Are Densely Packed

The heaviest stars are so densely packed that a handful of their matter would weigh about ten tons.

Energy radiated from each square inch of the sun's surface is sufficient to keep a 50-horsepower engine continuously in motion.

Illustrating the amount of energy made available by radiation, Dr. Jeans said that the annihilation of a pound of coal a week would produce as much energy as the combustion of 5,000,000 tons a week which are mined in the British Isles. A single prop of oil would take the Mauretania across the Atlantic.

Dr. Jeans estimated that the age of the earth far exceed the 300,000 years or so of man's existence. He said he believed it was in the neighborhood of 2,000,000,000 years.

"A million million years hence so far as we can forsee," he declared, "the sun will still be much as now, and the earth will be revolving around it much as now. The year will be a little longer, and the climate quite a lot colder, while the rich accumulated stores of coal, oil, and forest will have long been burnt up, but there is no reason why our descendants should not still people the earth.

Sun Weighs Less

"Perhaps it may be unable to support so large a population as now, and perhaps fewer will desire to live on it. On the other hand, mankind, being three million times as old as now, may—of the conjecture does not distress our pessimists too much—be also three million times as wise."

Radiation of energy, Dr. Jeans said, was annihilating the sun's mass at the rate of 250,000,000 tons a minute. Consequently, as the sun has no source of replenishment, it must weigh 360,000,000,000 tons less today than it did yesterday.

"Thus observation and theory agree in indicating that the universe is melting away into radiation," he continued. "Our position is that of polar bears on an iceberg that has broken loose from the icepack surrounding the pole and is inexorably melting away as the iceberg drifts to warmer latitudes and ultimate extinction."

Correct this sentence: "If Sinclair should offer a contribution this year," said the politician, "it would be refused."

FRIENDS.

A New York actress accused of shooting her husband says, "I am done with Broadway. It's all glitter and tinsel and the friends you make are not friends in trouble."

All of which doesn't mean a thing. People are people and character is character, wherever you find it. There are good friends on Broadway just as good as there are on the farm. Occupation does not determine character so long as the occupation is honorable.

How often we seek a change of circumstances when what we really need is a change of self.

SOUND IDEAS.

It is a fortunate thing for the country that there are rich men who can see over and beyond their practical wealth men who seek to use their wealth to solve some of the problems presented by modern conditions of life.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., turns over a million dollars to two of the best negro schools in the country—Tuskegee and Hampton. He says he is impelled to do this by "the sound work achieved by the two institutes in helping to solve the negro problem."

It takes much vision to know where to buy betterment.

Just Folks

The Candy-Man.

All-day suckers and lollypops,
Maple fudges and chocolate drops!
Wares that satisfy; goods that please!
Who sells lovelier things than these?
Who among all of our working clan
Has a happier trade than the candy-man?

Peppermint sticks and nougat bars!
Lemon and strawberry drops in jars!
Where in the earth is a job which beats
The glorious business of selling sweets?
Here is a salesman who satisfies
And gladdens the heart of the one who buys

All day long the children race
With shouts of glee to his tempting place.
Never a customer cross appears
Laughter is all that he ever hears.
Friendship is all that he ever meets
For he's in the business of selling sweets.

If I were starting my life again,
I wouldn't be slave to a faulty pen.
I wouldn't barter life's joy for fame,
But over a shop I would nail my name
I'd be the candy man, proud to tell
That I had nothing but sweets to sell.

SUCCESS HAS A WAY—

Of ignoring family trees.
Of finding those who are better prepared.
Of rewarding those who work a little more intelligently.
Of remembering those who stood by their principles.

Contest Winners To Be Announced

Winners of the insurance essay contest which was sponsored recently at the Senior High school by the New Castle branch of the Pittsburgh Life Underwriters' Association will be announced next Thursday evening, May 3, at a banquet to be held in the Elks club at 6:30 o'clock.

Sam Lewis, president of the association, states that the parents of the winners and other guests will be invited to the affair.

The three winners of the contest, one student from each high school class will read their essays at this time. Prizes will be awarded at the close of the program.

School Musicians To Play In Contests At Grove City

Arrangements are being completed at the present time for the western Pennsylvania inter-school musical contest which will take place in Grove City on Thursday afternoon and evening, May 3.

The contest opens at 12 o'clock with class A chorus work in the United Presbyterian church and the class B orchestra contest in the Grove City high school auditorium. At 2:15 p. m., the class A orchestra contest will be held in the high school auditorium while the class B chorus contest is being held in the U. P. church.

At 3:15 p. m. orchestras comprising class C will compete for honors. New Castle will be represented in this event and if the local group wins out it will play again in the evening for final honors at 7:25 o'clock.

The evening session opens in both auditoriums at 7 o'clock. At this time the winners of the afternoon contests will meet to determine the first and second place winners of the evening.

The entire class A band contest takes place in the high school auditorium beginning at 8 o'clock.

Winners of the contest will be announced about 9:30 p. m., and the evening's program should be closed soon afterwards.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE MAN WHO WASN'T FOOLED BY LITTLE MOTHER

Mrs. Nighthawk's eyes glistened like diamonds in the gathering dusk. Mr. Nighthawk looked worried. Baby Nighthawk paid little attention. In fact it is doubtful that he heard his mother's question. He was watching the fireflies lighting up the meadows. But Peter was curious.

"What happened?" demanded he. And again Mrs. Nighthawk looked squarely at him.

"Nothing!" chirped she. "At least nothing that shouldn't! The man watched me making-believe for a moment, then he laughed. But it was a kind laugh. Any bird with an ounce of sense would have been happy to hear it."

"'You can't fool me, Madam!' he called after me. 'There's nothing at all the matter with you. You are just trying to make me forget there is a baby on the stone you have left behind you. You think I am going to follow you. You are willing to give up your liberty and your life, if you must, if only I will spare your baby.

"'Don't worry, little mother. Neither Rover nor I would hurt either your chick or you for the world. And since I don't want you to be frightened any longer, Rover and I will take ourselves off and leave you and your youngster get over your scare. Goodby, brave little mother.'

"Now husband, I ask you! Wasn't that a nice Two-Legs? Never will I be so afraid of one again!"

"Better be cautious, wife. All Two-Legs may not be as fine. You might trust the wrong one some time. But I will admit the man who was not fooled by your trick was as kind as he was clever." Mr. Nighthawk turned to Peter. "You are a young Two-Legs. You know your race. What do you think about it?"

"DON'T WORRY LITTLE MOTHER. NEITHER ROVER NOR I WOULD HURT EITHER YOUR CHICK OR YOU"

"I think your wife had better take your advice, Sir," declared Peter. "It a'ways pays to be careful. Two-Legs are not all alike no more than the birds are. You ought to be very proud of your babe. He is so young to be so brave. But I want to ask a question, Mrs. Nighthawk. May I?"

"Certainly," chirped the Nighthawks in chorus. What is it?"

"You spoke about your porch, mam. Why didn't you and your chick run right into your house and hide the moment you saw the Two-Legs?" The Nighthawks chuckled.

"Asked like a stranger in Birdland!" chirped the lady. "Chick and I couldn't run indoors because there wasn't any. Our house is only a flat rock. There we live and sleep and raise our family. We should suffer if we had to be shut away from the fresh air for a whole night at a time. No Nighthawk needs more shelter than we have. It's our own fault when harm comes to us. The whole outdoors is ready to hide us if we are not caught napping when we should not be."

Mrs. Nighthawk began preening her feathers and Peter knew that as far as she was concerned the question was answered, the subject was ended.

Presbytery Considers Union Of Presbyterian Churches At Mercer

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., April 27.—Difference of opinion of the slave question at the time of outbreak of the war of the rebellion in 1860 resulted in a break in the ranks of the First Presbyterian church of Mercer and the establishing of the Second Presbyterian church by those leaving.

The action of a committee of the Erie Presbytery of the church here is the first effort of the church leaders to affect a reconciliation of the two congregations since that time.

The committee met with the church officers of the two congregations.

Each official was asked if he favored a union and how to bring it about.

The Presbytery committee was headed by E. L. McIlvaine of Meadville. On the committee with him were Dr. B. B. Royer of Franklin, Dr. J. M. Ross of Erie and Hon. E. H. Beshlin of Warren.

It was stated by Dr. McIlvaine today that the committee will make recommendations at an adjourned meeting of Presbytery to be held at Sugar Creek near Franklin on May 22.

The ministers refused to comment on what their opinion of the situation might be or how the officers of the two congregations had answered the questions asked in the affirmative or negative.

The church laws would give the Presbytery authority to disband either church if they deemed fit.

America's Gold Aids Germany's Rehabilitation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—America's gold is chiefly responsible for the post-war economic rehabilitation in Germany.

Out of an approximate $1,122,000,000 borrowed by Germany in the last four years, $750,000,000 was furnished by bankers in the United States, according to a Commerce Department analysis.

A report submitted by Trade Commissioner Clayton Lane, of Berlin, showed that loans for the last year were $377,000,000, a decline of eleven per cent from 1926.

Borrowing Drops

The drop in German borrowing probably was the result of a letter written to the government by S. Parker Gilbert, agent general for reparations, who urged greater economy in public expenditure and fewer loan flotations by public bodies.

Ninety-two per cent of the 1927 borrowing represented long-term loans, seventy-five per cent of which went to private enterprises for the upbuilding of German industry. There was a sharp decline in long-term loans to public bodies and enterprises, although short-term loans to governmental bodies were somewhat heavier than in 1926.

Of the long-term loans since the Dawes advance of 1924, fifty-six per cent went to private enterprise, 26 per cent to public bodies, 16 per cent to public enterprise and two per cent to church corporations. The short term flotation over this period were principally taken by public bodies.

Holland Helps

While United States has supplied 70 per cent of Germany's financial demands since 1924, the proportion fell to 64 per cent in 1927. The Netherlands was the next largest source of capital. England supplied less than 10 per cent in the four years, although it supplied long-term credits in 1927 which were not listed as formal loans. Switzerland and Sweden were credited with most of the remainder.

"German borrowers received about 3.830,000,000 marks in long-term foreign loans out of a total per value borrowed of 4.250,000,000 marks," the Commerce Department said. "They have received 10 per cent less than they will have to repay when the loans mature.

Outstanding German foreign loan indebtedness at the end of 1927 was 4.203,160,000 marks. On the estimated interest rate of 6.55 and 5.5 per cent on long and short term loans the total interest charge due in 1928 will amount to about $68.700,000.

BRITISH POST OFFICE STUDYING METHODS USED IN AMERICA

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 27.—In the hopes of improving her own service, England is going to America to study postoffice methods.

The administration of the British post office system has been severely criticized on economical and other grounds, and the question has been discussed in the House of Commons.

During the course of a debate there, the postmaster general announced that he was planning a "flying visit" by officers of the British post office to America to make a close study of the American telephone and telegraph service.

Organ Recital For Rotarians

Karl Kuechler Entertains At Cathedral On Thursday Evening

To entertain the Rotarians and their guests before the banquet which took place Thursday evening in the Scottish Rite cathedral, Karl L. Kuechler of the New Castle Rotary club, an organist, gave a short recital in the auditorium of the cathedral on the Greer Memorial organ.

Mr. Kuechler's program was designed to show the various effects which could be secured with the stops of the largest organ in western Pennsylvania, and it was very well received by the visitors.

Among the special selections which he played were The Rosary by Nevin, featuring the chimes effect, and the Melody in F by Reubenstein, showing the harp and violin stop. A piano prelude was also played, which displayed the double piano combination which is possible on the Greer organ.

He also played several potpouri selections from the Student Prince, Rose Marie and Mme. Modiste, which further displayed the organ.

What Sleepless Nights Usually Mean

When you have to get up two or three times during the night it is often a sign of bladder trouble.

You may or may not have symptoms, such as a steady dull aching back and darting pains in the groin. At any rate Marshroot is guaranteed to help you in a very short time or money back.

You'll feel better after taking one bottle—more energy—and whole nights of sound sleep. It isn't expensive. Love & Megown is selling lots of it.

Noted French Pianist, Oldest Living Musician

(International News Service)

PARIS April 27.—Monsieur Lsbonne of Pont-Saint-Esprit, has celebrated one hundred and one birthdays and is probably one of th oldest living musicians.

More than a century of happy living has left him no infirmity. His eyes are as bright and clear as those of a 20-year old youth and his silvery hair thick and bushy as well as his long beard, his fingers long and supple.

Monsieur Lisbonne is a composer as well as a musician. He has lived through the various revolutions brought about by Beethoven, Berliez, Wagner, Debussy and Strawinsky; he has passed from the romantic harp to the twanging banjo and has been stirred by musical romances and jazz Charlestons.

Paris Known As "City Of Light"

(International News Service)

PARIS, April 27—Paris will be more deserving than ever of its celebrated title "the City of Light." Its antiquated, rosy-hued gas lamp-posts, many of which are still lighted at dusk by picturesque Frenchmen wearing long blue blouses and strange hats, are doomed. Thousands of the latest modern electric ones are going to replace them before the summer is over if the plans of the city government can be worked out.

Narrow little streets which hardly merit more than the name of "alley", such as "the street of the fishing-cat," "the street of the one-eyed man" or the one "of the bad boys," will beam with electric lamps, as well as some of the chic quarters which have long needed them.

You wouldn't give a kid matches to play with in a powder house and then scold it in an effort to prevent accidents. Why license foolish drivers?

Find Arctic Seaweed On California Coast; Is Shown In Museum

(International News Service)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 27.—At every bathing beach along California's thousand miles of coast line pieces of rope-like native seaweed, called kelp, can be picked up almost any day. But rarely does a sea tree, a specie of giant kelp rfom the frozen Bering sea appear after having broken loose from its rock mooring and swept south by the Japanese current.

A perfect specimen of the giant kelp, 65 feet in length, has been found at Mission Beach and was on exhibition today at the San Diego natural history museum. It has a single, drab round attenuated trunk, with a rooty mass at one end and a bulb at the other.

The hold-fast, resembling the root structure of land plants still retains fragments of the rock to which it was anchored in a tide race, its favorite habitat. The tree grew upward, reaching for the surface, where the hollow bulb took shape, to float like a buoy and send forth antler-like branches to gather in oxygen.

The restless play of the water stimulates the tree. A mucilage is manufactured in the bulb and its pneumatic cist, and forced down the elastic stem to the root, enabling them to better to hold fast to the rocks.

What is Twilight Sleep "FOR THE TEETH" ?

Twilight Sleep is a wonderful preparation that "puts the teeth to sleep," so soundly that a tooth can be extracted or filled—without the slightest hurt to the patient.

Outside authorized officials of the United States Government, the formula is known only to chemists in the employ of the Twilight Sleep Company. It is being used by progressive dentists from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans. Its use, however, is restricted exclusively to one dentist in any one city—and here we have the franchise.

Senate To Get Two Tax Bills By Next Week

Two Distinct Tax Bills To Be Given Senate Next Week For Debate

COOLIDGE VETO IS THREATENED

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Two distinct tax bills, one by the Republicans proposing a $203,000,000 reduction, and one by the Democrats offering a $325,000,000 slash, will be presented to the Senate next week.

The Democrats will fight to either reduce or repeal all holdover wartime taxes, while the administration will battle to hold the tax reduction within the limit fixed by the treasury. A veto by President Coolidge has been indicated if Congress finally enacts a $300,000,000 tax slash.

A strange alliance between the administration forces and the Republican insurgent group was rumored today, by which the insurgents will support the administration's plan in return for abandonment of the Mellon proposal to repeal the federal inheritance tax. Administration leaders already have reversed the action of the Senate finance committee by which it voted to repeal this tax at a session two weeks ago, and the Republican bill will be reported with the tax left intact. The Democrats have favored retention of this tax all the time.

Summary Issued

A summary of the tax situation in the senate, as compared to existing law and the provisions of the $289,000,000 reduction authorized by the house, follows:

Corporation tax:

Present law: tax of 13 1-2 per cent; House: cut to 11 1-2 per cent; Senate Republicans: cut to 12 1-2 per cent; senate Democrats: cut to 11 1-2 per cent.

Tax on small corporations:

Present law: tax of 13 1-2 per cent; House: adopted graded tax starting at 5 per cent on $7,000 and ending with 11 1-2 per cent above $15,000; Senate Republicans: apply 12-12 to all; Senate Democrats; adopted House plan. All three agreed to increase exemptions from $2,000 to $3,000.

Surtaxes on incomes:

Present law: Graduated tax: House no change: Senate Republicans and Senate Democrats voted a $25,000,000 slash on brackets between $12,000 and $75,000 but with different schedules.

Federal Estate taxes:

Present law: Graduated taxe in which states share up to 80 per cent; House and both Senate plans retain it.

Admission taxes:

Present law: 10 per cent on tickets above 75 cents: House raised the exemptions to $1.00; Senate Republicans raised exemptions to $3.00; Senate Democrats: repealed the tax entirely.

Tax on Prize Fights:

Present law: 10 per cent of ticket value; House: placed 25 per cent tax on tickets above $5.00; Senate Republicans and Democrats adopted this increased tax.

Automobile taxes:

Present law: 3 per cent of selling price: House and both Senate groups repealed the tax.

Capital Stock tax:

Present law: two cents per $100; House: cut tax to one cent; Senate Republicans; retained two-cent tax; Senate Democrats; cut to one cent.

Tax on Club dues:

Present law: tax of 10 per cent; House: reduced to 5 per cent; Senate Republicans: retain 10 per cent; Senate Democrats; cut to 5 per cent.

Produce Exchange Sales tax:

Present law: Tax on one-cent on sales; House: repealed tax; Senate Republicans, retain tax; Senate Democrats: repeal tax.

The House, and both Senate plans repeal of the tax on cereal beverages while slashing the tax on wines to conform with the lower tax on distilled spirits. This $1,000,000 slash was opposed by the treasury.

Numerous administrative changes were incorporated in the new Senate bill and these met with approval of both Republicans and Democrats.

The Senate's tax fight probably will start Monday and there were indications the bill would be enacted by the end of next week. Another week probably will be required to iron out differences between Senate and House, thus getting it to the White House about May 15th.

New Madrid Arena Will Seat 50,000

(International News Service)

MADRID, April 26.—Fifty-one thousand citizens of this city will be able to attend their favorite sport—bullfights, every Sunday, as soon as the new arena has been completed, on which laborers have been actively at work for the past two years. This new arena, the largest to ever have been built in Spain's capital, will hold twenty-six thousand spectators.

Another arena, at the other end of Madrid will also be completed this year, and will have a seating capacity of twelve thousand persons. Thus these two, together with Madrid's old arena which holds thirteen thousand people, will give the opportunity to a greater number of people to attend the famous Spanish diversion on the same afternoon than in any other city in the country.

You think all girls should learn to cook and sew. Well, should all boys learn to chop wood and milk?

BOARD REFUSES TO RECONSIDER ACTION

TITUSVILLE, April 27.—The local school board has refused to rescind its action in dropping a dozen out of town teachers from the personnel of the city's teaching staff for the coming year.

The committee which was named by 800 citizens at a mass meeting and which was headed by Rev. Dr. Samuel Semple, Presbyterian minister as chairman, interviewed the individual members of the board and found that a majority of them "declined to meet the committee on the ground it would be unwise to publish the reasons for refusing to employ certain teachers.

GIRL BADLY BURNED DRYING WASHED HAIR

EASTON, Pa., April 27.—Anna Hautz, 16, of this city, washed her hair and then sat down in front of the cellar heater to let it dry. She got her head too close to the fire box, her hair ignited and she was taken to a hospital with her head, face, shoulders hands badly burned. It is believed she will recover.

WOMAN JUROR HAS UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 27.—That his wife, Mrs. A. C. Stauffer of near Scottdale, was "bedeviled" and intimidated by William Shallenberger, Scottdale, was stated by Stauffer in explanation of his wife's sudden disappearance while serving in Uniontown as a juror in common pleas court. Mrs. Stauffer explained that Shallenberger met her in Uniontown and that she, under "some sort of a spell," accompanied the man first to Pittsburgh and then to Cambridge, O.

In Cambridge Mrs. Stauffer wrote a brother in Wooddale explaining the circumstances. Later she went to her brother's home and, after an explanation, she and her husband were reconciled. They were in Uniontown today.

ENDS OWN LIFE WITH SHOT GUN

GALLIPOLIS, O., April 27.—Russell Pratt, aged 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pratt of South Webster, O., committed suicide by shooting with a shot gun. No cause could be given by his family for his act.

Commencement At East Brook

Ceremonies Will Begin On May 25 And Conclude June 1

MANY FEATURES MARK PROGRAM

Commencement program of the East Brook High school will begin with the senior play on the evening of May 25 and conclude with the formal commencement exercises on Friday evening, June 1. Baccalaureate services for the senior class will be held on Sunday evening, May 27.

Rev. S. B. Copeland, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church of New Castle, will preach the baccalaureate sermon.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of New Castle schools, will deliver the commencement address.

Grade School Closes

On Thursday evening, May 3, the East Brook grade school will close their school year with an entertainment, the closing sessions of the school being held Friday afternoon, May 4.

Other activities of the East Brook high school are the last of a series of one-act plays being given by the high school, on Friday evening, May 11, and the literary contest on Tuesday evening, May 15.

Other activities of commencement week are the class night exercises on Tuesday evening, May 29, and the junior prom on Thursday evening, May 31.

The literary contest, which will be held Tuesday evening, May 15, has been postponed several times on account of sickness of the participants. A contest in debate is being prepared between the freshman and sophomore classes and an oratorical contest between the junior and senior classes. Gold awards are to be made to the winners of both contests.

Successful Year

The first page of history for the new East Brook school is almost completed and the record is one worthy of commendation. Even though her first year, her name stands well in the ranks of the Lawrence County Basketball League. Community interest and co-operation have been evident throughout the term. School spirit has begun to get a grip upon the pupils. Dramatic events have given opportunity to use natural talent and to train pupils to appear before audiences. Above and through all, effort has been placed upon serious academic activity, so that East Brook may not only be a school that her graduates may be proud to claim, but that she may produce graduates in whose training she will be proud to have had some part.

Paris Honors Chef Who Cooked In 1870 For French Generals

(International News Service)

PARIS, April 27.—An army marches on its stomach, according to Napoleon. Auguste Escoffier cooked the food that made the French generals fight.

The other evening all chefs of the best restaurants in Paris doffed aprons and bonnets for clawhammers to honor Auguste at a banquet given by the Society of Chefs on his 82nd birthday.

It was Auguste who wielded the casserole behind the stratagems conceived by the French general staff during the war of 1870. No one blamed Auguste because France did not fare better in that conflict. Since then Auguste has been a crusader for French cuisine and he is the reason why filet de soie, frogs legs and a thousand other French dishes can be found through the world.

On the night of the banquet Auguste was the reason why several thousand diners in chic restaurants could not find their favorite chefs, who were at the celebration. Urbanely and fatherly as befitted his year Auguste is reported to have given the lie to the housewife's complaint: "I have cooked so much I never enjoy eating myself." Auguste proceeded blithely and expertly from soup to cheese and accompanying wines and liqueur.

Auguste is leaving the kitchen but his principles of cooking are being perpetuated by more than 2,000 cooks who he has trained. He has passed on to them the recipes that make generals fight.

If the hairs of our heads are numbered it must add considerably to the bulk of statistics that are kept but little used.—Toronto (Ontario Canada) Daily Star.

The Diary of a New Yorker

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, April 26.—Variegated notes of a reporter covering the biggest beat in the world:

The biggest coffee cups I ever saw are in the Harvard Club here. They hold a pint.

Thomas A. Edison ignores progress in automotive science and still drives his first car, of 1912 vintage. But he loves to speed in motor boats.

R. F. Foster, the famous bridge expert, thinks one-deck Russian bank is a better game. (See your Hoyle. It isn't a sinful game: I was taught to play it by a bishop.)

Jazz's victory isn't quite complete. The Metropolitan Opera Company grossed more than $3,000,000 in the season just closed.

A chorus man who read in this column that "in the profession chorus men are held in low esteem," sends in a protest. He points out that the men in Broadway show ensembles are generally of high class, most of them intent only upon learning the show business or stepping from the chorus into higher roles. He calls attention to Benjamin Cutler, Yale '26, star halfback of the Old Eli eleven, and prominent in two other sports, member of the highest college societies, and chosen by his class as its best all-around member. Cutler sings in the chorus of a musical comedy.

Other examples he offers are Hazard Newberry, son of wealthy Frederick Newberry of Detroit, and cousin of former U. S. Senator Truman Newberry; John Pierce, a graduate of University of West Virginia medical school; Charles Maynard, star debater at Wooster College; George Lamb Jr., also of Yale, where he attracted attention in art and dramatics. A former Episcopalian minister is in the chorus of a show.

Sale of peanuts in Central Park dropped away to nothing after park commissioners, desiring to rid it of peanut hulls, ruled that only shelled nuts might be sold in the park. Without the shells to scatter to the winds, park visitors found peanut eating rather dull and uninteresting. Then some enterprising peddlers began bootlegging the forbidden fruit. Bags that used to sell for a nickel now are distributed covertly at 10 and 15 cents. The bears and monkeys are again demonstrating their proficiency in the art of shelling peanuts.

Sultan Of Nijaz, 65, Defies Soviet Power; Now Has 30 Wives

(International News Service)

SAMARKAND Turkestan April 27—The 65-year-old "Sultan" of Nijaz, who claims to have inherited the right to rule a province of Turkestan from ancestors whom Genghis Khan, the Mongol war lord, put in power more than 700 years ago, has bought himself a beautiful 17 year-old girl wife as an addition to his harem which is said to number 30 women. He paid her father, a poor shepherd, 1,500 rubles ($750).

The "Sultan" has successfully defied all Soviet laws against polygamy, partly on technicalities and partly because the vast majority of the inhabitants of his "kingdom" are Mohammedans. His trump card has been the motto, "You can't put whole populations in jail." And the Soviet realizing that their customs and manners can't be regulated by law, has contented itself with letting him alone. He holds his throne only in name and exercises no executive powers whatsoever.

On the heels of the "Sultan's" ceremonious marriage came the news that Shainov, a shepherd living in an adjacent village, had abducted his sister from her husband and sold her to the son of a wealthy merchant for 150 rubles and two yards of cotton cloth.

A Mohammedan priest performed the forced marriage and received 50 rubles for his services in "nullifying" the sister's Soviet marriage to the man she loved and uniting her with a Mohammedan whom she had never met.

In this case also the Turkestan Soviet took no action. It is probable, however, that since report of both cases reached Moscow, the Central Executive committee will order an investigation.

Man Must Be Dead For Fourteen Years To Settle Estate

(International News Service)

BOSTON, April 27.—For 14 years the relatives of William Diskin, late drawbridge tender in Charlestown, must wait for his estate. He is not dead, the law says, unless he has been missing for 14 years or someone will take oath that he is dead.

Mr. Diskin was last seen on the bridge by the members of a tug crew on the night of January 21. He had set his flags and lights and was fighting his way across the trestle work to his shanty. One minute he was in the clear view of the tug boat crew. Then they saw him no more. He must have dropped into the water, they said. There was no place else that he could go. They would have seen him had he gone forward.

Only his midnight lunch and his bottle of cold coffee were found in the tiny shanty.

Dragging for the body proved futile. Divers were engaged but they had no more success. Newspapers printed the story of the affair as a drowning. Police records also used the word, drowning.

The law, though, wants more than that and so the relatives of William Diskin cannot touch his estate for 14 years.

Denmark Queen Enjoys Holiday Along Riviera

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NICE, Alpes, Maritimes, April 27.—The Queen of Demmark, who seems to be very much enjoying her winter holiday on the Riviera, takes great delight in exploring curious points of interest. One day last week she had her usual game of tennis in the morning, a rule which she very seldom breaks, and then visited the old church on the Suquet, which is one of the most historical spots along the southern coast. After luncheon she set out again and made the ascent by the funicular railway to Spuer-Cannes and went on to the top of the Observatory.

The royal couple is also very fond of polo and frequently attended the matches at Mandelieu and other sports.

Interest in small yachting this season was very much stimulated by the fact that the King of Denmark has taken up racing during his visit to Cannes. His Majesty sailed his own boat in a six-meter race one day and held his own throughout the run although he finished up seventh.

Prince Carol Seen

Another royal visitor who has been attracting a great deal of attention this season is Prince Carol of Rumania who is very much seen on the Croisette or the Promenade des Anglais with the famous redheaded woman, Madame Lupescu. Friends of his declare that he is about to spring a surprise which will be especially interesting to the United States. But the Prince refuses to have anything to say about it and for the present, is living at the Hotel Negresco contenting himself with having a very good time.

Impromptu cocktail parties have now become quite the thing on the Riviera and have become the gathering places for interesting painters and notables. Very often they take the form of small expositions. Everyone drops in to see a new collection of pictures and the man who shakes 'em is kept very busy.

Hunt Antiques

But not all the Americans who find their way to the sunny south of France go there to paint and sketch. "Antiqueing" is becoming one of the favorite sports mostly indulged in by Americans. The greatest field for it is back in the mountains, in such picturesque old villages as Vence where several Americans have become proprietors of antique-shops.

Near Menton, two Americans who were obliged to settle there for their health, came across a charming old clive-mill one day and turned it into one of the most delightful tea-rooms along the Riveria. They left the old olive-press standing in one corner of the room and picked up other pieces of antique furniture.

But the antiques are not all that makes the place so interesting. These two Americans know all that makes the place so interesting. These two Americans know all kinds of delicious dishes to tickle the palates of any straw patriots. Once you try their old-fashioned chocolate layer-cake with chocolate icing, angel-food, pumpkin pies, chili sauce, American pickles, etc., you will never care whether you return to the Land of the Free or not.

PLAN COMPLETING LINCOLN HIGHWAY

JEANNETTE, Pa., April 27.—The Westmoreland county commissioners have received word from the State highway department at Harrisburg that all of the unconcreted portions of the Lincoln highway between Greensburg and the Allegheny county line will be concreted this summer. The unconcreted portions of the highway include about three miles west of Greensburg, a short stretch between Lincoln Heights and Adamsburg about two miles between Adamsburg and Irwin and about four miles from Jacksonville to the Allegheny county line.

Asthma Clinics For London Is Doctors' Plan

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 27. — A $250,000 fund, backed by the services of an important committee of physicians, has been established here to investigate the cause and cure of asthma, according to the Lancet, the organ of the British medical world.

Ten physicians and surgeons constitute the committee, which already has recommended the foundation of asthma clinics at hospitals, and that investigation be made into the relation of asthma and respiratory diseases and alleged cures of both.

Different Conditions

"On seeking a cause for asthma we are struck by the variety of conditions which may give rise to an attack", says the Lancet. "One subject may suffer only at the week-ends, another only at a certain season of the year.

Climate affects some asthmatics but has no effect on others. Some are at their best in a fog. Dust plays an important part, and so sometimes do the emanations from certain animals. Particular articles of food will invariably bring on an attack with some victims, while with others diet seems to make no difference at all. There is a strong neurotic element in many cases, and several members of one family may be asthmatics.

Variety of Causes

"With such a variety of exciting causes, it is obvious that to find any treatment, the basis of which is to remove the cause, will be a matter of considerable complexity, and no one can wonder at the large number of so-called cures on the market.

"In order to study these problems certain sufferers from asthma have formed an asthma research council and have appointed a medical advisory committee."

YOUNG WOMAN ENDS LIFE AFTER PRAYER

MINERSVILLE, Pa., April 27. — Soon after she had been seen praying in her bedroom, Mrs. Violet Sukeena, 19, was found dead here with a bullet through her heart. A note beside her indicated that she had committed suicide because of domestic difficulties.

Her husband, John Sukeena, was in the house at the time. Hearing the shot, he rushed upstairs, but she was dead.

SEEK TO PROVE NO FAT IN SUGAR

HAVANA, April 27. — Cuban sugar cane growers have set out to prove to women of the United States that sugar is not a fat producer.

Much of the depression in the Cuban sugar industry and much of the decrease in demand is blamed upon American women, who in their efforts to remain or become thin have abstained from the crystals of the cane.

Efforts will be made to prove that the theory that sugar causes fat is erroneous, and to induce American women to resume its use in beverages, candy and food.

Which can be credited with greater influence for good, a modern flapper with a flask and a ballot or the old-fashioned girl who wouldn't go with a drunk?

Hoover And Smith Are Presidential Preferences Here

Calvin Coolidge Runs Second To Hoover On Republican Ticket

One Second Ward Democrat Still In Favor Of William Jennings Bryan

Herbert Hoover and Al Smith seem to be the choice of a majority of Lawrence county voters for President, according to an inspection of returns of last Tuesday's primary.

Although President Calvin Coolidge has reiterated his famous declaration that he does not "choose" to run, there are many Lawrence county voters who would draft him into the race. Next to Herbert Hoover on the Republican ticket, he received the largest number of votes.

There were no names of candidates printed on the ballots used last Tuesday, but at the top there was a blank space in which voters could designate their choice. Very few of the voters appear to have exercised this privilege, but those who did indicate the trend of public opinion.

Some enthusiastic supporter of William Jennings Bryan either does not know that the famous Commoner is dead, or believes that he will come back to life in time for the next Democratic convention. At any rate, he or she gave Bryan a vote, as first choice for President. The vote for Bryan was cast in the fifth precinct of the second ward. Mr. Bryan was such a familiar figure and powerful influence at so many Democratic conventions that it was probably natural for a second ward Democrat to mark his ballot for him through force of habit.

First ward, third: Smith, 15; Hoover, 4; Ford, 3; Coolidge, 1.

Union, third: Dawes, 2; Hoover, 1; Smith, 1.

New Wilmington: Coolidge, 27; Morrow, 1; Hoover, 62.

Bessemer: Hoover, 44; Coolidge, 2; Smith, 11; Hughes, 1.

There were also a number of votes cast in several of the precincts for New Castle people.

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIERS TO ATTEND BENNETT FUNERAL

At 6:15 o'clock this morning the plane was on the ice and ready to take the air. The fliers at that time were breakfasting in the hangar.

The ice appeared to be perfectly safe for the take-off. The plane was taxied across it several times without mishap, despite the fact that it was equipped with wheels instead of skis.

Major Fitzmaurice flatly denied this morning that he had any intention of returning to Greenely Island within 10 days to get the Bremen out of its isolation.

Chamberlin Escort

After a run of about 1,000 feet the Ford took the air easily. It began to climb at once. Meanwhile traveling in a westerly direction, it climbed steadily, clearing the mountains to the west of the lake. Soon it was lost to view, but in five minutes it reappeared and circled over the airdrome, apparently waiting for Chamberlin to hop off.

Then Balchen swung to the south, flying at an altitude of about 2,000 feet.

Mechanics started the motor of the Fairchild and the Ford came swinging back again, "loafing" overhead while its escort was started down the runway. In a few minutes Chamberlin took off easily and gracefully and both planes sped southward and quickly were out of sight.

Seven in Plane

All told there were seven persons in the Ford plane. In addition to those already named there were two passengers, Charles Wenzell and a newspaper correspondent.

Although the great plane's fuel supply was believed to be sufficient for the 800-mile journey to Washington, arrangements were made for a possible landing at Hartford, Conn., to replenish the fuel supply if it ran low. In the event Balchen changed his mind other arrangements were made for a landing at Mitchel Field, N. Y.

As the result of telegrams exchanged last night a quantity of gasoline was awaiting the Ford at Brainerd Field, just outside of Hartford, and another supply at Mitchel Field, on the outskirts of New York City.

Immediately after dawn arrangements were made for the Ford's flight. The motor was tested and everything was found to be in perfect shape. The ice on the lake was tried to make sure it was strong enough to bear the terrific burden. It had melted steadily for the past few days, but a sharp cold snap last night strengthened it.

"Goodbye; we have enjoyed the wonderful hospitality of the Canadian people immensely, and they will ever be close to our hearts," said Baron von Huenefeld.

After the party was in the cabin Balchen took the controls, cautiously taxiing across the runway. Then he "opened the throttle", and with a terrific roar the great plane lifted skyward.

FOUR CITIES ASK NEXT CONVENTION OF 33RD DISTRICT

Place Of Next Rotary Convention Is Not Decided Today

Pittsburgh, Greensburg, McKeesport and New Castle invited the next annual district conference of the 33rd district of Rotary International to come to their cities at the luncheon, held this afternoon in the dining room of the Scottish Rite cathedral. The decision will be made by the executives meeting in the fall.

BOY SCOUT Activities

The monthly meeting of the Scoutleaders club was held last evening in the Elm street Y. W. C. A. at 7 o'clock. The meeting was preceded by a delicious dinner which was prepared and served by the ladies of the institution and friends of troop 14 under whose auspices this dinner meeting was held. The members present expressed their appreciation of the kindness of the ladies and the officials of the troop in making this gathering possible.

During the course of the business meeting several important discussions were held for the benefit and betterment of the Lawrence county council Boy Scouts of America as a whole. The camporee, which is to be held here June 8 and 9, was given considerable thought and discussion. Each man gave his promise to support the committee in every way possible.

The scout band which was recently organized was also taken up and the scoutleaders decided to close the charter for admission when the number reaches 50 members. As there are now 45 members registered, any one desiring to enter should report at once to the Elks club on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

All present also expressed their willingness to cooperate with the local Rotary club to make the boys' parade which is scheduled for 4 o'clock May 1 a success. Mr. Thomas on behalf of the committee, expressed his appreciation for this attitude on the part of the scoutleaders.

The next meeting of the club will be held at New Wilmington with the leaders as the guests of Jack Hulmes, scoutmaster of New Wilmington troop 1. More information in regards will be given out later.

After several further discussions the meeting adjourned.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 the New Wimington troop 1 held its weekly meeting which had been postponed from Tuesday evening because of the borough election which was held in the city hall, the meeting place of the troop.

The scout sign and motto were included in the opening ceremony. Scoutmaster Jack Hulmes spoke to the boys in an interesting way on hiking. Several important hikes have been taken by this troop this season and several more have been planned. Robert Weber gave the scout oath and sign before the troop. Several tests were passed in preparation for the next Court of Honor.

Scribe—Thomas Rogers, Jr.

St. Paul's Lutheran troop 21 gave a reception to their scoutmaster, J. R. Dunfee, in honor of his recent wedding, in the form of a scout lunch. The boys prepared and served a lunch of generous proportions and set places for 30 scouts and officials of the troop. After the lunch, speeches were in order with the chairman of the troop committee, Rev. A. M. Stump, presiding and presented, in behalf of the scouts, a "Boy Scout Statuette" to Mr. Dunfee. The boys also remembered Mrs. Dunfee by presenting a special cake for the occasion.

Responses were given by the scoutmaster, his assistant and the patrol leaders. The matter of camping was discussed and plans are to be made at a special meeting called for the officials and troop committee so that the boys can be sent to the camp this summer. Seventeen boys signified their intentions of going to Camp Phillips. A father and son dinner is to be sponsored by the scouts in the very near future.

NO ROTARY TROOP MEETING

There will be no meeting of Rotary scout troop No. 1 on Friday evening of this week due to the fact that the auditorium will be in use for the presentation of the orchestra and band concert of the city schools. Scouts will please note.

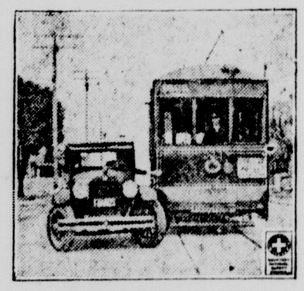
Why Street Cars Often Are Slow



Many a motorist who sometimes rides in street cars complains they are too slow. The above picture shows why motormen don't live to be a hundred. Of course, you're not the kind of a motor vehicle operator who expects a trolley driver to slow down while you cross the tracks. The best bet is to keep off street car lines.

Divisional Conferences Mark Afternoon Program For 33rd District Rotarians

Thursday afternoon's session of the Rotary conference in the Scottish Rite Cathedral was divided into Round Table discussions, with past presidents acting as leaders. These discussional groups brought out a number of interesting developments in the building of club life in the Thirty-Third district and the good accomplished through them was a mutual one.

Club Service.

Club Service took the time of the group headed by Past President Geo. T Buchanan. Under this heading came such problems as Organization of Club Service Committees, Membership Committees, Classification of Membership, Programs and the like.

"The ideal club" said Past President Buchanan, "is the one in which every class, every creed, every shade of opinion is represented. I have in mind a club in a small town in which Rotary is a true cross section of that town. Every creed in that city is represented there, every kind of business and almost every degree of opinion. The consequence is that this particular club is truly representative of its city, and is in position at all times to take an intelligent part in the civic life."

Classification lists were discussed and the importance of such things stressed. The Fellowship Committee was discussed and under this heading it was urged that new members be made to feel welcome, visiting Rotarians made to feel at home and that occasionally classification talks should be delivered before the club.

Boys Work.

"Boys Work and Community Service" was the topic of discussion of Past President Emmett Bailey. Instances of definite pieces of boys work were brought to light and some interesting things unearthed.

In one city the Rotary club offered every boy who wanted them, a dozen setting eggs to start him in the raising of chickens. The response was a large one and as a result the club made contacts with scores of boys. A Boys Week was put on with all boy activities being given the spotlight of attention and the success of it was so great that the girls of the city wrote letters to the club insisting that they be given some attention. Another civic club was interested in this work and the result was that both boys and girls of the city were given opportunities to render service.

Other pieces of community service were brought out. The participation of Rotary in community and civic affairs was urged and in this angle of work a number of instances were cited.

Vocational Service.

Under the leadership of Past President Roy Neville, Vocational Service was featured. "Friendship and Service are linked together in Rotary" said Mr. Neville. "In order to have a successful business a merchant these days must have a friendly store. The day is gone when clerks are mere order takers. They must be Salesmen of Service and Personality.

Chain Stores came in for some dissussion and Mr. Neville said that if he had any criticism of chain stores it was the fact that they did not take their true place in a community. That they were not as responsive to the civic needs of the city as was the private merchant.

The introduction of Rotary principles into business places was discussed and an open forum held before the group adjourned.

Duties of Club Presidents

The duties of the president of the local Rotary clubs and his relations with the various committees, was discussed at a round table conference held in the East lodge room of the Scottish Rite cathedral Thursday afternoon in connection with the annual conference of the 33rd district of Rotary, which is now going on in New Castle. Almost 50 presidents were present.

In the absence of W. Charles Wallace, president of the New Castle Rotary club, who was to have been the presiding officer, Edwin C. May, a past district governor of the 33rd district, presided at the suggestion of Charles F. Uhl of Somerset, the present district governor. Mr. May acted as an instructor to the newly elected presidents of their clubs, and instructed them in the proper methods of procedure.

After Mr. May's address, Thomas Fitzgerald, president of the Pittsburgh Rotary club, conducted an open discussion on committees and their appointment. The availibility and literature of Rotary International was also discussed and recommended as a source from which almost all of the problems of the local clubs could get their solution.

The duties of the president at the meetings of the clubs was next discussed, and it was recommended that the president of the club should scan the program very carefully before each meeting. After many questions and answers on this subject, the meeting was dismissed.

Secretaries Confer

Blair F. Davis, veteran executive secretary of the Pittsburgh Rotary club was the presiding officer at the secretaries' round table, held Thursday afternoon in a room adjoining the East lodge room of the Scottish Rite cathedral, which was attended by some 30 secretaries of Rotary clubs of the 33rd district.

That the secretary is one of the most important officers in any club, and that he is final authority on almost all club problems were the points brought out by the visiting secretaries at the round table. The relations of the secretary with the International Secretary, the district governor, and the president of the club were also discussed, and it was recommended by Mr. Davis that to get the best results, everyone must work in the closest harmony.

Ways of reporting the attendance of visiting Rotarians were also discussed, and a form letter recommended. The session closed with a general discussion on attendance.

Enlarge Freedom Oil Company Plant

H. I. Elder, local manager of The Freedom Oil Works Company has received word of the completion of two new distilling units at their refinery located at Freedom, Pennsylvania, which embody the latest principles of refining oil. Operation of the first of these units was started Monday night, April 23rd, and it is planned to start the second one in the course of a day or two.

The distilling units have been designed and constructed by the E. B. Badger Sons Company of Boston, Massachusetts, for whom Dr. E. H. Leslie of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, is consulting engineer. The two units operating exclusively on Pennsylvania Grade Crude consist of two continuous pipe stills of special design together with fractionating towers and heat exchangers, with a combined capacity of 2000 barrels of crude per day. It is planned to construct a third unit in the next six months.

and Rebuild Weakened Vital Forces

It is estimated that in the City of New York alone over half a million men, women and children who have anemia are eating liver on the advice of physicians.

"There is some "Mysterious Substance" in beefs liver that turns thin watery blood into rich red blood—restores in great measure weakened vital forces. Just what that potent Substance is scientists are now trying to ascertain.

All they know now by thousands of tests is that weak, anemic, vigorless people are greatly benefited and nearly always are restored to normal and often robust health.

It is today well known to every progressive physician that the discovery of this vital substance in liver is a big step forward in medical achievement.

The chief trouble so far is to get people to eat enough liver to bring about a speedy recovery for it is hard to eat liver every day—many people can't do it.

So now doctors are prescribing a preparation called Hemo-Liver which is extracted from fresh beef livers by an intricate scientific process so that rich red bloodmaking vital elements are obtained.

So great has been the demand for Hemo-Liver that now all of the first class drug stores dispense it in large bottles containing twelve ounces.

By taking one tablespoonful three times a day any anemic person will get as much of the potent substance as the eating of much liver would supply.

"Men and women who are suffering from lowered vitality, general weakness, overwork, nervous breakdown or anemia can put their faith in Hemo-Liver. For feeble old people, girls thirteen to eighteen and in convalescence it won't fail. As a spring tonic it surpasses old time remedies. It strengthens the nerves, increases the red blood cells, promotes health and rebuilds vigor and energy so quickly that often physicians are astonished."

Why not get a big bottle of Hemo-liver today—eight days' treatment—and if after you have taken one bottle you are not wonderfully improved—get your money back.

You can get Hemo-Liver at Love & Megown.

Nevada Bank Loot Missing From Cache Revealed By Bandits

(International News Service)

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., April 27—Who got the $30,000 loot taken in the sensational robbery of the Virginia City bank and buried it in a remote spot in Six-Mile canyon?

This question baffles officials here.

The men who buried it, now serving five to 20 years in the Nevada state penitentiary at Carson, don't know. The bank and surety company officials don't know. County officials don't know. No one knows—apparently.

Robbery of the Virginia City bank last October supplied a sensation. A second sensation came with the conviction of Charles Fitzsimmons and George Moore, accused of the robbery.

W. O. Heinrich, consulting criminologist of Berkeley, contributed to their conviction by proving in court that hairs found on certain articles corresponded with theirs—one of the articles being a cap found near the bandits' abandoned automobile in Six-Mile canyon.

Facing 20 years in prison, Fitzsimmons and Moore decided that to reveal the hiding place of the bank loot would mean a shortening of the sentence. So they drew a map showing the exact whereabout of the cache and asked that the money be dug up and returned to the rightful owners.

They found the tin can in which the money had reposed.

But they did not find the $30,000.

Mystery was added to the strange disappearance of the money because the cache was in a spot which defied detection. One might range the hills for months, walk over the very hiding place, and never see it, investigators declared.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A well-meaning pedestrian said to a man, who was employed to advertise on the street: "Pardon me, but do you know that your sandwich boards are turned wrong side out?"

"Sure, I know it," was the snappy reply, you don't suppose I'm goin' to work durin' my lunch hour, do yer?"

There are no bronze statues of men who needed special laws or Government appropriations to make them successful.

Honor Winners Are Versatile

BOTH ACTIVE IN DIVERSIFIED LINES

That Miss Gertrude Potter and Miss Jennie Wygonoski, valedictorian and salutatorion, respectively, of the June graduating class of the Senior High school, have been popular students and very prominent in school circles during their three years of attendance at that institution, is shown by their "Activities List", which every senior fills out at the completion of the school course for use in the Ne-Ca-Hi, the class year book.

Miss Potter was feature editor of the school paper during the past year and has been named to the same position on the senior class book. She was also a member of the school's student council and held the position of secretary one year. During the term just drawing to a close she has held the office of chairman of an important committee of the Senatus Romanus organization, of which she has been a member for two years.

In her sophomore year Miss Potter won the title of Summa Cum Laude (With Highest Praise) by her remarkable work in connection with Latin, and at the finish of her junior year she was awarded Magna Cum Laude (With Great Praise). The former honor is the highest the department can bestow on a student, while the latter is the second highest award.

Miss Wygonoski, the salutatorian, who has been very prominent in athletics, has the distinction of being a member and an officer of several other scholastic groups in addition to athletic organizations, being a member of the staff of the Ne-Ca-Hi this semester.

During the past year she has been assistant secretary of the student council and a member of the student representatives. She has been a squad leader throughout her high school career and was a member of the commercial club in her junior year, at which time she entered the state commercial contest.

Miss Wygonoski has gained widespread popularity as captain of the Senior High girls' varsity basketball team, which position she held during the past season. Aside from this she was the coach of the sophomore girls' basketball team in her junior year and was the coach of the senior girls' team this past season.

Miss Potter and Miss Wygonoski will speak at the commencement exercises to be held on Wednesday, June 5.

DR. C. G. JORDAN TO BE SPEAKER

Secretary Of Agriculture To Make Address At Mercer County Event

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., April 27.—Dr. Charles G. Jordan, state secretary of agriculture, will be the main speaker here May 7 at the big meeting of the rural men of the vicinity and the business men of Grove City in the Penn Grove hotel. The day will be observed as Rural Day, and is sponsored by the Commercial club, the Rotary club and the Kiwanis club. The rural men will be the guests of the local club members and will be banqueted in the Penn Grove hotel at 7:30 o'clock. The event was held last year by the Rotary club alone, but this year bigger plans were made and all three clubs united together.

Dr. Jordan is known by a number of Grove City residents and was once a student at Grove City college. His address is expected to be of much interest to both the farmers and the business men.

Final preparations will be made by the general committee in charge within the next few days. The committee is composed of E. B. Harshaw of the Commercial club, R. L. Montgomery of the Rotary club and Prof. G. H. Crowther of the Kiwanis club.

Shopping Is Still a Pleasure Here!

In the old-fashioned "corner store" there was lots of friendship and good feeling. The storekeeper used to ask if Tommy was going to school this fall, and send a bag of candy for little Mary Jane's birthday. The old-fashioned store's gone now, and in most cases the old-time friendliness has gone with it. But at United Chemists we like the old-fashioned way, and we like to feel that each customer is our friend.

School Committee Reveals Plan To End Controversy

Evolve Plan To End Dispute Between Factions Of Theological Seminary

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—The special committee of eleven of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church appointed to evolve a plan to end a dispute between two factions at Princeton Theological seminary today revealed its scheme for governmental recognition of the institution.

The proposed plan would unite the board of directors and the board of trustees into one body of 33 members. The plan is embodied in the Blue Book, annual report of the general assembly, to be presented at the Tulsa, Okla., conference May 24-30.

The committee of eleven is unanimous in its acceptance of the report of the San Francisco assembly of last year that the two boards now governing the seminary be merged.

President E. D. Warfield of Wilson College, Pa., however, filed a minority report holding that the personnel of the new board should be filled by the committee of the assembly at Tulsa. The new plan provides that the board to be chosen shall consist of 33 members, not more than 18 of whom shall be ministers, and not more than 15 of whom shall be ruling elders. One-third of this body shall be chosen from the board of directors and one-third from the present board of trustees and the other third from persons not now members of either board.

Four False Alarms From Box Reported

Signal Is Being Pulled At Corner Of County Line And Crawford

Police and firemen are trying to ascertain the identity of the person or persons pulling the fire alarm box signal at the corner of County Line street and Crawford avenue.

Last night the fourth false alarm in a month was turned in.

Fire Chief Charles Lynn does not believe that the false alarms are being turned in by small boys and efforts toward apprehension of the culprits are being made.

Officers Recover Two Stolen Cars

City police today reported having recovered a Ford coupe, property of C. M. Allen, Mt. Jackson road, in the vicinity of Liberty street.

Walter Bannon, constable, West Pittsburg, informed city police he had located an Essex, 1927 model, stripped. The car, green in color, had been operated 3,000 miles.

City police were advised that the Overland touring car of John Grinmen, Wampum, had been stolen from Railroad street, Wampum, and it is being sought here.

Travelers Enjoy Pig Roast Event

U. C. T. Members Meet At City Hall Headquarters Thursday Night

Approximately 100 persons attended the pig roast held by the New Castle Council, No. 408, United Commercial Travelers, in the Sons of Union Veterans hall in the city building last night.

Those who were present consisted of the members of the organization, their wives, families and other special guests. The feast was made possible by Ed. McKibben, a member of the council, who recently won the porker at a public raffle in Butler county several months ago. Mr. McKibben offered the porker to the council for this purpose and it was gladly accepted, with the feed last night as a result.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the council had charge of the feed and were responsible for the delicious menu.

This was the first meeting of the organization to be held in the city building, their new meeting place, and the pig roast was held as an opening event. New members of the council who were initiated at the last meeting were the special guests at last evening's roast.

"Whitey" Lloyd Is 100-Metre Winner In Penn Carnival

Naval Academy Star Wins First Race In Tryouts For American Olympic Team

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN FIELD, PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—Russell "Whitey" Lloyd, a loose ball expert as a football star at the Naval Academy, stopped picking up fumbles this morning long enough to pick up his feet and run 100 metres in 11 1-5 seconds to win the opening event of the Olympic decathlon tryouts at the Pennsylvania relay carnival.

This victory started Lloyd off well in the lead of a field of 18, who were striving for places on the American Olympic team in this event. Unofficially it was stated that Lloyd's time either equalled the decathlon record for the distance or established a new mark.

Start Search For Couple Believed To Have Eloped

(International News Service)

OXFORD, Pa., April 27.—Simultaneous disappearance of pretty Frances Brown, 17, daughter of a prosperous farmer near here, and Guy Redmond, 34, Sunday School superintendent and an employe on the Brown farm today had led her parents to believe they either eloped or the girl was kidnaped.

Pennsylvania and Maryland police are seeking the missing pair. An elopment was suspected after the girl's father, Kirk Brown, discovered his automobile was missing.

Redmond is married and the father of two children. Miss Brown was a junior in the local high school.

Several cities will enter invitations for the conference and all of them agree that they will have difficulty approaching the conference site offered by New Castle.

Commenting upon this feature this morning, District Governor Charles F. Uhl of Somerset said, "where can we find a place so fitted for such a purpose as New Castle has given us. Where will we find a building which is a complete conference site such as this? Where we can get our meals served in the same building as we hold our sessions, and where the facilities are so wonderfully adequate for any purpose we might ask."

Laud Boy Scouts

Among the resolutions of appreciation passed this morning was one for the Boy Scouts who have served during the conference. It was unanimously agreed that the service of the Boy Scouts during this conference was of an unusually high standard and that the service was deeply appreciated by the Rotarians.

The resolutions committee also presented the following formal resolution. "Whereas this district conference has very evidently been the recipient not only of the most adequate but also most exceptional attention in the provision made for its entertainment and accommodation, therefore,

Be it resolved, that we hereby express our most hearty appreciation to Governor Charlie and his aides and to the New Castle Rotary club and all those associated with it for the expeditious manner in which the conference has been conducted, for the splendid program by which we have profited and for the wonderful facilities of this Cathedral which has been placed at our disposal.

Also to the committee of ladies who have so wonderfully cared for our Rotary-Anns, and to the Kiwanis club of New Castle for its floral expression of greeting and friendship."

Rotary Development

The addresses this morning were grouped around the development of the individual Rotarian in his desire and capacity for service. "In His Job" was handled by I. Hess Wagner of Somerset, Pa. "It is our duty" he said, "to put into our jobs, that something, that intangible quality which is Rotary. It is not enough that we do our jobs just capably. We must put more into it, if we are to be true Rotarians. Our jobs are not merely means to a livelihood, but they must be considered as a means of service to humanity."

"We must work our ideals. It is not enough to sit and listen to high sounding phrases, we must put those ideals to work, although we may never reach them. The sailor never reaches the stars by which he charts his course, but he doesn't quit using them. The ideals of Rotary must be put into actual, practical use in our lives as citizens else we have fallen short of our measurement as a Rotarian."

Harry W. Snyder, of Johnstown was scheduled to speak on the Rotarian as a citizen, but other duties kept him from the conference hall this morning. J. J. Vigneau of Pittsburgh, chairman of the "On To Minneapolis" committee of the 33rd district spoke on the coming International convention in Minneapolis and urged every Rotarian to attend, who possibly could.

Morning Session Opens.

Extra work piled on the reporting committees caused the morning session of the Rotary conference to convene at 10 o'clock instead of 9:30 the scheduled time. While waiting for the committees to report President E. H. Stevens of the Uniontown Rotary club made a short address on the activities of his club during the past year.

Welty O. Rugh of New Castle, was the first committeeman to report giving the findings of the registration committee. Mr. Rugh stated that there were 999 Rotarians and Rotary-Anns officially registered for the conference. Almost 200 more failed to register, but attended the banquet Thursday evening. Only two of the 57 clubs in the district were not represented at the conference, those being Latrobe and West Newton. The club with the largest number of registrants went to New Castle with 91 Rotarians and 99 Rotary-Anns. Glassport and Pittsburgh split for second place each with 41 present. Glassport had 37 Rotary-Anns while Pittsburgh had 21. Other clubs who had large representations at the conference were Beaver Falls, 22; Blairsville, 23; Butler, 30; Ellwood City, 40; New Wilmington, 29; Sharpsburg 21; and Zelienople 26.

Voting Explained.

District Governor Charles F. Uhl of Somerset next explained about the pending nomination of the next district governor. While each club was not represented by their full number of delegates Mr. Uhl stated that each club could vote for their full membership on a schedule of one vote for each 25 or the majority of 25 members. No voting could be done by proxy. He also declared that those who were present without credentials from their club could vote if they signed a statement saying that they were the official delegates of their clubs.

Mr. Uhl next took up the crippled children's work which is being sponsored throughout the world by Rotary International. At this time he introduced Wm. Thompson of Pittsburgh who is very active in crippled children's work Mr. Thompson explained that the Rotary clubs act in harmony with the Pennsylvania State association for the care of crippled children and be a stimulus to their respective communities.

Twelve Clinical Centers.

He further stated that at the present time there were within the state 12 clinical centers where treatments were given to children. He also said that at the present time Rotary was working for the establishment of ten convelescing hospitals within the state where children could be given follow up treatments.

"I believe that no club should take the financial burden of the crippled children's work on its own shoulders" continued Mr. Thompson. "In most cases the parent should pay the bill where medical attention is received. Or if the epople cannot meet the expense Rotary should help, but never should assume the entire responsibility except in the most extreme cases.

"Other organizations must be let in on the crippled children's work because others are interested in the welfare of young America. The Kiwanians, Lions and Optomists all have their duty to perform along this line and we wish to help them perform it.

"Within the state there are four special schools for crippled children. In any community where there are ten or more crippled children a school can and should be started. Where there are less than ten then special bedside teaching can be secured from the school districts.

14,000 Children Aided.

To date almot 14,000 children within the state have been helped by Rotary. The movement grows bigger each day. We cannot confine it to the club any longer. Everyone must help and everyone must co-operate.

After Mr. Thompson's address Governor Uhl explained the evolution which is in progress about Rotary. He said that the program is still retained, although the outward features of the clubs are changing. The six objects, around which the organization is built will never change he averred although the machinery which moves the organization may progress.

Howard D. King of Uniontown was the next speaker on the morning's program having for his subject "The Development of the Individual Rotarian in His Desire and Capacity for Service."

"All this means" stated Mr. King "the development of a personal interest in his own club. Each Rotarian must be alive and if he is alive and interested in his own organization he will want to be of service."

How to interest the new members was the next heading in the speech of Mr. King. He advocated the conduct of a club so that membership in it is esteemed. He cautioned secretaries to show conservation in expanding classifications to take in certain men, stating that in most cases restriction causes growth. When membership is prized then the individual member is enthusiastic he said.

Mr. Thompson told about the Century club of the Union Rotary club which consists of those members who have attended 100 and more consecutive meetings. This he stated is a good way to boost attendance records.

Anthracite Mines Display Decrease In Tons In 1927

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 27.—Pennsylvania's anthracite mines produced 79,367,154 net tons in 1927, a loss of more than four and one-half million tons as compared with 1926, Walter H. Glasgow, secretary of mines, announced today.

Figures for the bituminous field were made public last night, showing a production of 151,746,464, a loss of 20,000 as compared with the former year.

Reports compiled by the department showed that an average of 167,648 men were employed in the anthracite field, as compared with 168,743 in 1926. Despite the reduction in the number of men employed, the anthracite industry last year took a toll of 491 lives, 36 more than in the previous year.

CHARGE VIOLATION OF WOMAN'S LAW ON WORKING HOURS

C. Pusnik of Bessemer was arraigned before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton this morning and paid a fine of $35 and costs for violating sections five, 13 and 15 of the woman's law of the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Pusnik pleaded guilty to the charge of allowing female help to work after 9 o'clock at night and of neglecting to post notices of the woman's law in his place of business.

Rotary Conference Sidelights

One of the suggestions which was made in the Presidents Round Table yesterday afternoon concerned those members of their respective Rotary clubs who had missed four consecutive meetings, or whose attendance average had fallen below 60 per cent. One president proposed that the delinquent member be given a heart to heart talk by the president in an effort to get him to mend his ways. This suggestion seemed to be well received by the conference.

Mammoth radio amplifiers were placed in the dining room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral Thursday afternoon so that all of the guests who attended the banquet last evening could hear. And all could hear. Even in the most remote corners speeches were distinctly audible.

Some of the guests at the banquet Thursday evening who doubted the statement that at one time in New Castle a banquet was held at which more than 2,500 guests were seated at the same time had all doubts removed from their mind when they formed part of a crowd of almost 1,300. The main and west dining rooms were the only ones used. This left the east dining room and the ball room unoccupied.

In stentorian tones H. B. Richards and Louis B. Round of the New Castle Rotary club directed the guests who packed the lobby of the Cathedral before the banquet. This observer does not see how they made themselves heard above the noise.

And even more comments were heard on the smooth way in which the banquet was served by the Wimodausis. There was no hitch anywhere.

At 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon registrations at the convention numbered 650. But at 10 o'clock the same evening the total jumped to almost 1,200 Rotarians and their wives. This does not include almost 100 more who were the guests of the Rotarians.

Busses from all over the western part of the state brought in the crowds to the banquet. One woman was heard when it was all over exclaim: "Well, we shall get home at about 4 o'clock in the morning."

And another department has been added to the Cathedral. It is a lost and found desk and is placed in the lobby along side the desk being used for the transportation committee. To date many articles have been found and returned to their owners, chief of which was a purse containing quite a sum of money.

Thursday afternoon the first aid station at the Cathedral was used. A man came in groaning. It turned out to be nothing but a case of sore throat.

They say that the Mardi Gras takes place only at New Orleans but one can say with all sincerity that a minature one was held at the Scottish Rite cathedral imemdiately preceeding the banquet. Eash guest received a paper hat and a balloon. Each guest put his paper hat on, blew up his balloon and tried his best to punch his neighbor in the nose with it. Quite a few succeeded and the fun began.

It is queer how one of those paper hats will change the character of a man entirely. Last evening District Governor Chas. F. Uhl was George Washington; Walter D. Cline, first vice president of Rotary International was Puck and W. Charles Wallace, president of the New Castle Rotary club was Punch.

Charles F. Uhl president of the Thirty-third district of Rotary was honored Thursday during the course of the Rotary conference when he was presented with a handsome gold watch and chain the gift of the Rotarians of the district.

In making the presentation speech George T. Buchanan past president dwelt upon the service Mr. Uhl had rendered during his term of office and in behalf of the Thirty-third district presented Mr. Uhl with a slight token of the esteem in which he was held.

The gift came as a surprise to the president and fluent a speaker as he is he had some difficulty in responding to the surprise presentation.

As a special honor to one of New Castle's Boy Scouts, John Boston of Rotary troop 1, was delegated to be the aide to District Governor Charles F. Uhl of Somerset, Pa., while he is New Castle.

Rotary-Anns are closing one of their most successful sessions of the conference this afternoon. On every side, one hears congratulations for the committee, on the splendid program which they had arranged. Everything went off smoothly, and all were pleased, hoping for the time when the conference is again held in New Castle.

As many people thought, festivities did not stop with the banquet last evening. There were a few convivial souls who had not enough fun, so, en masse, they came to The Castleton, where they opened the coffee shoppe again, moved the victrola out, pushed the tables back to the walls and danced.

One hundred and fifty Rotary-Anns were this afternoon the guests of the New Castle Senior High school at a special presentation of "The Tightwad," a school play, which was recently shown to the public. This followed a luncheon which took place at noon in the main dining room of The Castleton.

At the luncheon, Mrs. James Rugh sang, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Welsh at the piano. Mrs. William J. Caldwell led the pep singing. As a special feature, Alan B. Davis, director of the Conservatory of Music at Westminster College, sang several solos. He was accompanied by a music student from Westminster.

All arrangements for this and previous affairs were in the hands of a committee of New Castle Rotary-Anns, headed by Mrs. Jacob F. Rentz.

Negro Boarder Is Burned To Death

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 27.—Smoking cigarettes in bed was believed by firemen to have caused the death of Henry Mitchell, 24, negro, who was burned in his bed at a boarding house in Franklin today. Several other roomers escaped. The damage to the house was estimated at $5,000.

ENTERTAIN CLASS

Members of the W. W. M. G. class of the Third U. P. church enjoyed a nicely appointed dinner on Thursday evening in banquet hall of the church. The dinner was given by the boys of the class as they were the losers in a recent contest conducted by the entire class.

An elaborate menu was served by the Loyal Band class at 6:30. A color scheme of yellow, orange and white predominated. Each girl responded with a toast to the boys. Covers were laid for 32.

After the dinner music and games were enjoyed. On Tuesday evening, May 1, the regular meeting of the class will take place at the home of Miss Gladys Gray on Adams street.

JAILED ON SUSPICION

Police today reported that when Patrolman M. J. Young noticed a young man, giving the name of "Vernon Fry", on the property of the Consumers Gasoline station last night he arrested Fry on a charge of suspicion. He is being held for examination.

Unique Program Given At School

Program Presented Is Given By Travel Club Of Mahoning School

A unique and pleasing program was presented at Mahoning school entitled "The Geography of Milady's Dress." In reality the program was a style show with the characters dressed to represent some particular industry. There were eight girls who acted as models while two girls, Ellen Wylie and Althea Stull, were readers and with the aid of a map pointed out and told about the various materials and each industry represented by the models. Characters and the industries they represented are as follows:

Thelma Raney represented the lace industry. She was dressed as a Spanish girl with Spanish shawl and lace mantilla and did a Spanish dance.

Ione Farver, dressed as a ballet dancer, danced. She represented the diamond industry, having head dress and bracelets of brilliants.

Dorothy Shriver represented the perfume industry. This was a very clever little act. The platform represented milady's boudoir with furniture arranged on it. While Jeanette Ginsberg acted as the maid for milady, using an atomizer.

Helen Root, dressed as an Irish girl, represented the linen industry.

Evelyn Bryant, attired as a bride, represented the pearl industry. The long bridal veil was carried by Kathcrine Sarbo. Both wore pearls, especially the bride.

During the entire program music appropriate for each scene was played by Frances DeRoss on the piano. The program was different and greatly pleased the audience. The Travel club, an educational club at the school, presented the program under the direction of Miss Geneva Flemming, supervisor of the club.

Movie Men Fail In Third Attempt To Blow Up Schooner

(International News Service)

WEYMOUTH, Eng., April 27.—The third attempt by a movie firm to blow up the three-masted schooner Amy, in the English channel, in order to complete their "Q" ships film, has again failed because, according to seafaring men, she is either haunted or has a charmed life.

Seamen said it was unlucky to remove her old figure-head which shows a woman clasping a bunch of flowers and which is now on view at a neighboring hotel.

"No vessel will ever sink without her figure-head," say the old salts.

The Amy was towed out into the Channel accompanied by naval vessels from Portland. Naval officers charted the position where she was to be blown up, several miles south of Shambles Lightship.

The trouble began with the electric leads between the Amy and the tug parting twice. The schooners decks and sails were then soaked with kerosene and flares were laid. The crew abandoned her. But still she refused to burn.

A submarine afterwards cruised around to make sure that all fires were out. The demolition crew were told to return to the schooner but they refused. There was nothing for it but to tow the Amy back to Portland.

LANGUAGE GETS NEW WORDS FROM GANGLAND

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 27.—Since the advent of gangs in Chicago which having been running rampant with the city and state governments, new words have been added to the English language which by common usage have come to be fully recognized. Among these are:

Alky—meaning alcohol.

Racketeer—meaning person engaged in illicit pursuits.

Limper—meaning one who has been in command or an "outfit" but now has no control.

ENJOYS GLORIOUS HEALTH; GLAD TO INDORSE KONJOLA

MISS SYLVIA COOPER

Seavy Photo

This surprising new medical compound, Konjola, which the Konjola Man is explaining in person to large crowds daily at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., has not only become the sensation of this city, but is also the talk of cities and towns thruout this entire section. For instance, just the other day Miss Sylvia Cooper, 1204 School St., New Castle, made the following report about Konjola.

"I had been a sufferer for years", said Miss Cooper, "trying first one thing and then another, before I ever knew there was a medicine like Konjola, and now since I got this new compound it has ended years of constipation for me and my stomach trouble is gone.

"The worst thing about my case was the awful constipation pains that came over me. I couldn't eat a meal without suffering. My food seemed to sour and ferment, causing loads of gas to form and sharp pains around my heart. I was also subject to heart burn that lasted for hours. Because of the constipation my system filled with poisons and I never could get rid of them. Although I tried strong laxatives, they never gave me any relief. All during the day I would have awful dizzy spells that felt as if a thousand needles were sticking in me. Besides these troubles my liver was sluggish and this caused my complexion to be almost yellowish. I didn't know what it was to get a good night's rest and I always felt dreadful in the mornings.

"When the Konjola Man reached New Castle I decided to try this medicine. It turned out to be just exactly what my system always needed. Before my first bottle was gone I could feel an improvement in every way. I continued with the medicine and now I can enjoy meals without suffering afterward. The indigestion spells do not come and I never suffer from gas bloating or heartburn like I used to. Konjola regulated my bowels and I have free movement every day. The dizzy spells have disappeared and my complexion has cleared up. In every way I feel like a new person. I sleep soundly all night long.

"Konjola has done more for me than anything else I ever tried and I will always be glad to recommend it to others who suffer."

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Cleveland Leads Cities Of U. S. For 1928 Conventions

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., April 26.—Cleveland will lead all United States cities this year in the number of conventions to be held, it was predicted by local Chamber of Commerce officials.

Within the next four months this city expects to entertain more than 21,000 visitors who will attend several national and state organizations' annual sessions, it was said.

The largest group of more than 5,000 delegates and their families are expected on July 23 at the National Colored Democratic Association annual convention.

From 2,000 to 3,000 prominent civic parts of the United States and Europe will attend the American Peace Society sessions from May 7 to May 12. A like number of delegates and their wives are expected in Cleveland at the National Congress of Teachers and Parents.

Conventions were 1,000 delegates or more will participate are:

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, May 8;

Northern Ohio District Rotary International, April 24;

National Sheet Metal Contractors, May 22;

Sports, Outing and Travel Exposition, May 17;

National Association of Colored Waiters and Cooks, sometime in May;

Men's Shapely Ankles Take Beauty Prizes Away From Women

(International News Service)

WATFORD, Eng., April 27—How two men won second and third prizes respectively in an ankle competition for women is being retailed with considerable gusto here.

It was a big social affair, at which the elite of Watford, including two hundred girls, were present. The ankle competition was one of the features of the evening, and a hundred shapely ankles were shown beneath a curtain which obscured the indentity of the competitors.

At last the judges singled their selection down to five—only three prizes were to be awarded—and everyone waited breathlessly while the judges finally decided on the three winners.

The curtain was raised. To the astonishment of everybody who had not been behind the scenes two of the three prize winners were revealed as men.

They has borrowed silk stockings and high heeled shoes from their sisters and entered the competition as a joke.

Pittsburgh Council To Investigate Coal Freight Rates Issue

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 27—An investigation by the city council of Pittsburgh into the freight rate crisis facing the coal industry in this section was in prospect today with the application for an opinion from City Solicitor Charles A. Waldenschmidt, on the legality of appropriating money for the project.

The motion was introduced at a meeting of the finance committee by City Councilman W. Y. English, who said that in view of the negotiations now being carried on with the railroads and the government, he believed an impartial report bearing the official stamp of the coal industry might be of great importance.

The condition of the coal industry is fundamental in its effect on the business and industrial structure of this region, English declared. While he had no definite plan for carrying on the proposed investigation, he believed that if funds could be obtained an angle from which to work would soon present itself.

It isn't generosity that makes a free spender that way; he spends most of it on himself.

20 "Slow" Horses Are Left In Stalls At Tiajuana Track

TIAJUANA, Mexico, April 27.—Every spring when the racing season closes there are a number of horsemen left stranded—hopeful but busted. With more feed and board bills against them than they can pay, and with credit gone, they abandon their steeds, to trail after their more fortunate fellows who have trekked on to the summer tracks in the east and middle west.

Twenty thoroughbreds, representing the "spoils of war", were today munching oats at the expense of new owners—the operators of the track restaurant and the horse feed store. These concessionaires reluctantly accept the horses, and now know not what to do with them for almost without exception they are capable of racing only in the cheapest sort of competition at the lowliest bush tracks.

The "oat and" stable and the "ham and" stock farm are searching for buyers of their unwanted equines, with admittedly little prospect of success. And in the meantime the horses, non-winners on the track but which unfailingly caught the judge's eye, in the "feed bill stakes" and the "lunch counter handicap", are just eating their heads off. If no aspiring horseman comes along to buy them, the band of has-been and never-weres will likely be turned out to graze on a ranch in the foothills near San Diego, in the hope that a few may be rejuvenated by the long rest and win a purse or two next winter, it was said.

Brass Tacks On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

By ALVIN E. BELL

The rich young ruler is one of the most pathetic characters in the New Testament. He was a clean, courageous youth of good character, high aspirations, unafraid to make public acknowledgement of his admiration for Christ when other synagogue rulers were opposing him. When Jesus saw him he loved him. He had within him the possibilities of a unique service as a disciple, not the least of which was his sincere desire to inherit eternal life.

When Jesus answered him, "Why callest thou me good? None is good save one, even God," he did not mean to renounce either his sinlessness or his deity, both of which he claimed repeatedly. What he meant to say was, "Good is a title that belongs to God; you have given it to me: do you really mean what you say?"

Then Jesus answered the young ruler's question by referring him to the commandments, particularly the second table which sets forth one's duties to his fellowmen, and, Matthew adds, that he closed with that summary of all of them, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Very glibly and earnestly the young man replied, "Teacher, all these things have I observed from my youth." And he sincerely meant every word he said.

But Jesus knew how little the young man realized the import of his own professions of love for his fellowmen, and, to show the young man how far he was from loving his neighbor as himself, said to him, "One thing thou lackest: go, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me." This was the acid test applied to the profession the young man had just made of supreme love for his neighbor from his youth up.

In answer to Christ's challenge the young man made the great refusal. "His countenance fell at the saying, and he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions." He thought he loved Christ and his fellowmen supremely, and made great professions, but he loved his great possessions more. What Jesus had to say about the difficulties besetting the way of salvation for the rich, he did not apply unqualifiedly to all having riches, but "to them that trust in riches."

Our lesson turns to the incident of Jesus sitting over against the treasury in the temple watching the people rich and poor casting in their offerings for the support of the poor. In his eyes the big giver was not the rich man who cast much into the treasury but a poor widow who cast in only two mites. Her spirit of sacrificial love for her neighbor is the spirit that was lacking in the rich young ruler. Here was a devout soul who actually sold all that she had and gave to the poor, "even all her living," as the proof of her love for God and for her poor neighbor. Her love centered in God and humanity rather than in earthly possessions, while the rich young ruler's love centered in his great possessions in which he trusted. Therefore she was enriched in her sacrificial gift while the rich young ruler was impoverished by his refusal. She was blessed while he went away sorrowful. She gave her living and won a life; he saved his riches and failed of eternal life. Are you willing to pay the price of following Christ?

(The international uniform Sunday school lesson for April 29 is Mark 10:17-27; 12:41-44, the subject being "The Cost of Discipleship," and the Golden Text, Matthew 6:21, "Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.")

American-Bar Men In London Hotels To Join Latest Union

(International News Service)

LONDON April 27.—"American-bar mixers unite! Cocktail shakers shake your mixers!

These are two of the new slogans of the Internatianal Geneva Association of Hotel and Restaurant Employes whose London branch has just formed an American-bar mixers' section.

More than 80 American bar mixers from London hotels and famous restaurants have already joined this new section and recruits are coming in from all parts of the country.

"Don't be under the impression that all bar mixers are American" says B. Paul the organizer. "There are now hundreds of English cocktail shakers in London and the big cities but they all go under the name of American-bar mixers because their art is reserved to the American bar of hotels and restaurants an American introduction which is now spreading through the British Isles.

"There are now American bars in all the biggest hotels and restaurants in London and the provinces. We propose to institute cocktail competitons so as to keep up with New York and Paris. New cocktails are being devised every day and we want these discoveries introduced into London."

Awards Made To Local Students

Kenneth Hood of New Castle and Martin S. Gettig of Ellwood City were among the students of Pennsylvania State College who received recognition for excellence in scholarship during the year.

It was the occasion of the annual Scholarship Day, the convocation being addressed by Provost Josiah H. Penniman, of the University of Pennsylvania, with prizes, medals, scholarships and fellowships presented by President Ralph D. Hetzel.

Kenneth Hood was awarded an honor society medal while Martin Gettig was elected to Sugma Gamma [illegible] honorary mining fraternity.

Charleroi High School Band To Be In Contest

Charleroi high school will send its band to the northwestern Pennsylvania inter-school musical contest which will be held at Grove City on Thursday, May 3, announces LaVerne E. Irvine, head of music in the local high schools.

Mr. Irvine states that this band is the same one which provided music for the basketball elimination game with Charleroi last year, and will be remembered by many who attended the floor contest at Pitt stadium.

The Charleroi band is in the class B section because it was organized less than two years ago, and to be in the A class, the organization must have been organized over two years ago.

As this band is the only one entered in the class B section there will be no competition, and hence the musicians will be awarded a prize just the same.

According to reports reaching the office of Mr Irvine, the Charleroi outfit is one of the finest bands in their district and should attract a huge throng to its contest performance.

Mercer Voters Pass School Bond Issue

Money Will Be Used For Erection Of School Gymnasium And Auditorium

MERCER, Pa., April 27.—By a vote of two to one the people of Mercer passed at the primary of Tuesday the bond issue of $50,000, the proceeds from which are to be used for erection of a gymnasium and auditorium. The vote is a surprise when the opposition to it is considered. In the north ward 175 for, 64 against; south 171 for, 71 against; east ward 110 for, 76 against.

Stanford Savants Hunt New Planet: Telescopes Are Busy

(International News Service)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 27—With all the enthusiasm of Hollywood movie producers seeking a new star, savants at Stanford University today launched a telescopic survey to find a new planet.

That such a planet exists revolving about the sun in an orbit partially within that of Neptune, is the belief of Prof. Sidney Dean Townley of Stanford. Prof. Townley confirms the calculations of Dr. William H. Pickering of Harvard who estimates the newly sought solar body is a star of the twelfth magnitude in the constellation Cancer.

Intense interest has resulted in observatories at Harvard, Lick and Yerkes searching for the planet.

"The chances of success in finding the star are increasing with time" said Prof. Townley. "There will probably be deviations in the predicted course of the planet enabling astronomers to correct their calculations as to its exact location.

"There is little likelihood of any practical effect on the earth through discovery of the new solar body. Neptune is at present the outermost planet of our solar system and the new planet is partially within its orbit."

There may be a dark horse nominated by the Republicans, but Coolidge is evidently determined not to let them make him a draft horse.

We Are Called Billion Years Behind Times

By WILLIAM PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Calif. April 27.—For all our boasted progress we are billions of years behind the times!

The authority for this is Dr. Henry Norris Russell, research astronomy professor at Princeton University.

Dr. Russel's declaration comes at a period when people are momentarily looking away from their mundane problems to ponder what is going on within their vision but beyond their comprehension.

A head-on collision has occurred in the sky and the star Nova Pictoris is now two stars, both of them visible in southern latitudes but not visible to the world's largest telescope at the Mount Wilson Carnegie solar observatory near Pasadena.

Studying Stars

Scientists who are studying the phenomenon are in South America and South Africa. They believe dispatches indicate, that the two stars mean another step in the evolution or progress of the worlds which inhabitants of this world can see but know little about.

Dr. Walter S. Adams, director of the Mount Wilson observatory said he did not incline to the evolution theory, the theory that another star had been born into the ether.

"I am more inclined to believe," he said, "that there was a collision and what once was Nova Pictoris is now two stars due to Nova Pictoris splitting into two sections. This is vastly important to the scientific world."

"The vast importance" of the phenomenon is not confined to the scientific world, amateur astronomers point out.

It would be more "vastly important" to a lot of laymen if this globe should collide with a star and be split into halves, as Nova Pictoris is believed by scientists to have done.

Perhaps, amateur astronomers were saying further, it is because of our extreme youth, even though we are billions of years old that it is difficult for us to understand many things. Their reference was to an address by Dr. Russell, the Princeton scientist, before students of the University of California, in Los Angeles this week.

A Young Planet

"This is still a very young planet," said Dr. Russell. "In fact we are only now beginning to acquire the mental capacity to comprehend our own origin. Racially we are still very much in our infancy."

Mars is the only planet on which atmospheric conditions prevail which would make any form of human life probable, Dr. Russell said.

"If, as scientists are believing, there is life on Mars then the inhabitants of that world are in a stage of development billions of years in advance of what we know here as intelligence.

ADAM'S APPLES ARE VANISHING

Disappearance May Be Responsible For Low Collar, McIntyre Thinks

NEW YORK April 27—Where are the Adam's apples of yesteryear? One out of the proverbial six used to be distinguished by this Lincolnian symbol. Today it seems you cannot scare up a half dozen on the whole of Manhattan Island. Their disappearance is likely responsible for the low collar.

There is something typically American about Adam's apple. It smacks of the plow, the spring-seated farm wagon and the furrowed fields and has the fascination of a loose tooth. Some had an adagio movement—slow leisurely and rather graceful.

Others had a quick bobbiness like a cork in the choppy waves. In a way the Adam's apple was a barometer of human emotions. A mecurial quickness presasged joy and grief, love and hate. And a slowly rising and falling movement indicated a mental calm.

There was scarcely a stage comedian without an Adam's apple. It somehow gave striking emphasis to comedy—like baggy pantaloons or splay feet. The older generation of financiers—like the elder Rockefeller for instance—almost invariably had 'em.

Now the financier has a plump neck with a billow or so fluting over the back of his collar. At the moment I can recall only one industrial giant with the rather primitive protuberance and he is Henry Ford. I just telephoned one academic theorist about the phenomon.

He advanced a plausible idea. He said it had been observed most tobacco chewers had Adam's apples and this may have been caused by the constaint drains of saliva drying up certain glands. With the big decrease in tobacco chewing, necks may have bloomed again.

In wandering into scientific fields, I seem to have become hopelessly balled up. I might easily have asked: What has become of the Adam's apple?—and let it go at that. But as you grow older you grow garrulous. And garrulities fill space.

AUTO DEALERS HAVE MEETING

Honor State President Who Is In New Castle For Rotary Conference

Called in honor of the president of the Pennsylvania State Automobile Dealers association John Lepper of Johnstown, who is in the city attending the conference of the 33rd district of Rotary, a special meeting of the New Castle Auto Deaders association took place Thursday noon in the dining room of the Elks club. The meeting was attended by 15 local dealers.

Mr. Lepper gave an informal talk on the work of the state association and its work in the Save-A-Life campaign which is now taking place. He also cautioned against accidents, expressing the belief that preventative measures would be taken in the near future.

TEN HERBS FINE FOR WEAK, RUN-DOWN CONDITION

Increased Lady's Strength And Weight; Relieved Pains And Indigestion.

"I cannot begin to tell you all the benefits that I am receiving from Ten Herbs," was the statement of Mrs. Charles Phillips, 51 Oregon street, Washington, Pa., to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street,

MRS. CHARLES PHILLIPS

"I was almost a physical wreck before I started using Ten Herbs," Mrs. Phillips continued. "I was terribly run-down and nervous—so weak at times that I could hardly get around. There were severe pains in my left side, and sometimes they would get so bad that I would have to press against my side to get a little relief. I tried different kinds of medicines for this, but none did me much good. My stomach was in a terrible condition. I would belch particles of food, and gas would form and affect my heart. My bowels were so irregular that I tried all kinds of pills, but as soon as I stopped taking them I was just as bad as ever.

"A neighbor induced me to try Ten Herbs, as it had given her wonderful results. Your medicine has increased my strength. I am gaining in weight, and the pain in my left side is almost gone. Indigestion has been greatly relieved, and I do not belch bits of food any more. My bowels are working fine, and I never have to take any more griping pills. I am glad to tell the public how much I think of Ten Herbs."

Ten Herbs is receiving the praise of many grateful local men and women, who tell of the satisfactory relief it has given them in cases of stomach, liver and bowel disorders. This great natural medicine also has a highly beneficial action on the kidneys. Its cleansing, soothing, correcting action on the entire system usually makes one feel better in every way within a remarkably short time; and, as the medicine continues its work within the system, there are often amazing benefits.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Lord Birkenhead's Opinion Of Women Writers Not High

(International News Service)

LONDON April 27.—Women are inferior to men in the realm of literature, in the opinion of Lord Birkenhead, Secretary of State for India in the present British government and himself a writer of no mean ability.

Addressing the Author's club here, he maintained that, although there had always been more women than men in the world, few women in history had ever attained to great literary distinctions.

"There have been many women writers of great distinction, but not in any way comparable to men writers of distinction," he said. "Women have no position in literature. If you consider that the world has existed for ten million years at least, it is reasonable to suppose that the contributions of women to literature would have been equal to that from men. They have not.

"A defense may be found in the defects of education, but to that defense I give no support. In the last three-hundred years, women authors have not held their own with male authors.

"I am astonished not by the numbers of women writers who have attained no great distinction—I am astonished by the very small number of those who, in the highest competition of all, have attained to the degree of distinction which is essential to a considerable and permanent place in history.

"It is surprising there should be so few women poets, because women are less material than men, and because thing spiritual and beautiful appeal to them more than to men. Is the explanation a sex complex?

Tender, Aching Swollen Feet

In Just Five Minutes Those Sore, Tender, Aching Feet Get Amazing Relief.

You probably feel like a lot of other people that about all you can do is dust some powder in your shoes or give your feet a special foot bath and let it go at that, but don't be foolish. Make up your mind today that you are going to give your feet a real chance to get well.

Go to McKee's Rut Rate Store, New Castle Drug Co., McKinley & Frantz, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your foot troubles will be a thing of the past.

Don't expect a single bottle to do it all at once but one bottle we know will show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered the way to solid foot comfort.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELEN E RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

PROTECTIVE MEASURES FOR SPRING

Now that you know how to reclaim your beauty—you want to know how to preserve it, don't you? Beauty that fades in a week—or a month—means very little in the long run. The time test of beauty is its most important quality!

And to carry your smooth, unlined skin far past your first youth, you must preserve and protect—regularly, carefully and scientifically!

You have heard, of course, the philosophy about that far-famed first quarrel of married life—if you never have it—you'll never regret it.

A first wrinkle is just exactly the same—if it never comes—youth will never go. And to those of you who simply accept wrinkles and lines and discolorations as the inevitable penalties of age, I cannot too strongly emphasize my original statement—startling though it may be—wrinkles and sagging muscles come from neglect in a great majority of cases.

Don't sit back and take all the unnecessary and unpleasant parts of life. You know from practical experience that life is to the alert, the energetic, the seeker!

If you want beauty and youth—want it enough to fight for it—to treasure it and to preserve it!

The first preservative measure lies in the selection of a cleaning cream. Don't choose any kind—there are millions—and some much better than others. Some creams will not only cleanse but will nourish and protect as well—and one has been made by a process that pasteurizes the cream used in its composition.

I have already spoken of windproof creams and balms—and I think for beauty's sake, every woman requires some weatherproof skin protective. There are a number of other foundation creams which are equally good.

These are the simplest of all protective measures. They protect the texture and the fineness of your skin. Your own good judgment will tell you of the added help a little nourishing cream will be if applied around the danger areas where crowsfeet, frown lines and laugh lines come.

Prevent the first signs of age—protect your sensitive skin and stimulate healthy, normal pore and tissue activity, and the years will not leave ugly traces on your complexion.

Four Trunk Line Railroad Merger To Be Completed

GIGANTIC DEAL IS CONSUMMATED

S. F. Loree Of Delaware And Hudson Is Free To Engage In Merger Project

NEW YORK, April 27.—Having sold his stock holding of the Lehigh Valley Railroad and the Wabash road to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and retired from the trunk-line consolidation field, L. F. Loree, head of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company, is free today to engage in any merger project he may choose, according to railroad authorities in the financial district.

$63,000,000 Deal.

Though the purchase price of the stock sold by Loree was not stated in the official report of the sale, it is understood that the 630,000 shares of the two roads brought $63,000,000, representing a profit of $23,000,000 for Loree and the stockholders of his road. The average purchase price of $100 a share compares with current prices of around $90 a share for Wabash and $115 for Lehigh Valley, each stock having moved up about 12 points since Monday.

Loree was able to sell the stock "free from any encumbrance" which means that he was not compelled to borrow money on the security of the stocks purchased, nor did the "bankers for the road" participate in the profits derived from the sale. It is known, however, that a considerable amount of money was borrowed on the security of the coal properties held by the road.

Merger To Be Completed.

The "four trunk line" merger system, having been cleared of all obstructions, will now be pushed forward, with the following line-up.

The New York Central will probably receive the Lackawanna, Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Chicago and East Illinois and probably Chicago and Alton, to be added to existing facilities.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will incorporate existing lines, together with the Lehigh Valley, which it has just purchased, and a right to use some of the trackage of the newly created Nickel Plate. It will probably sell holdings of Wabash to Baltimore and Ohio.

Baltimore and Ohio will receive the Reading and the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the Western Maryland, Wabash, the Monongahela and others.

The Nickel Plate will go through as originally planned, with the New York Chicago and St. Louis at the center, and the Erie, Chesapeake and Ohio, Pere Marquette, Hocking Valley, and possibly the Wheeling and Lake Erie, Pittsburgh and West Virginia and part of the Virginian in the line-up.

Ordinance For Vogan Street

Other Improvements Approved By Council In Meeting Today

City council at regular meeting this morning introduced an ordinance for locating, ordaining and establishing Vogan street between East Washington street and Cascade street and fixing the width and grade and opening of the street.

An ordinance was also introduced for the grading of Cascade street from Butler avenue south to the city line.

Council also took action to advertise for bids on the paving of Sampson street from Rebecca street to the city line. Also the specifications for a storm sewer on Rose avenue between Stanton avenue and Cascade street were approved and instruction given for the advertising for bids on the project. City engineer was also asked to prepare specifications for a sanitary sewer in Ryan and Cascade streets.

Harry Hill Given Freedom By Bond

Streator, Illinois, Youth Held For Death Of Mother, Released Under Bond

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Ill., April 27.—Harry Hill, 22-year-old Streator, Ill., youth walked to freedom under bond today for the first time since he was arrested last August and held for the murder of his mother, Mrs. Eliza Hill.

Judge Joe A. Davis in La Salle county court today accepted a $20,000 curety bond posted by the youth's father, Dr. H. C. Hill and Al F. Schoch, Ottawa banker.

Following a ruling by Judge Davis who decreed with the defense that the array of jurors was of negligible quality, the date for Hill's new trial was set for September 4.

There isn't much wrong in a land where 90 per cent of the present worry concerns the general average the kids will make in school.

It's Tough Job Being Queen

By IONE QUINBY.
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

RINGSIDE (CIRCUS), CHICAGO, April 27.—Lo, the Queen of Sheba! I am she. An elephant-riding Queen of Sheba— yep, that's what I am. In a circus.

I got the job because the manager was hard up for a queen. He took a look at me and said: "Too small." But I tried on the clothes—and I'm a queen.

Climbing the Pyrenees and the pyramids (which I've never done) is as nothing to climbing an elephant. The elephant I climb is billed as the largest in captivity. I'll take the press agent's word, believe me.

Gee—The Garments!

When you go to mountain or pyramid climbing you're dressed for it, but when a queen climbs an elephant she's wearing a ten-pound headpiece and dragging a train three yards long.

I'd always thought he Queen of Sheba hadn't worn so much—in fact hardly anything. But in circuses she's weighted down. There's always something new to be learned at a circus. For example you can't imagine what a big bone an elephant has on top its back.

I'll never forget the first day and my first meeting with Freda. Freda's the elephant. I think she's fairly young yet—not even a hundred. Well anyway—

When I arrived at the big tent I was taken to the women's dressing room to get fitted and to put my make-up on. As I plastered my eyelids with purplish paint, I looked over to my left and beheld two more queens all dressed up in beads and plumes.

Say, Why all the Queens?

I was a little taken back because I thought I was to be the only Sheba. But one of the girls a tight-rope walker, told me you've got to have several queens in a deck—different types—to please everybody including the college boys, professional men and the butter and egg men who still go to the circuses. I wondered which type I was.

While I was pondering I heard a whistle and someone yelled: "Here, you hurry up or you'll miss the parade" and I recognized the voice of the stern-looking manager.

I put on the beads and some pantalettes that went with them, drew a girdle around me and reached for my hat. The hat weighed about ten pounds and was a goregous affair of feathers. I put it on and adjusted the strap. Then someone gave me a bottle of pop, because the weight of the hat made me feel faint.

A nice girl in a white riding habit, who said she had been clawed twice by leopards and had her thumb crused in a lion act last year, helped me get my train fixed and warned me to "duck" when I went through the doors.

For a Little Thing Like That.

Unhappily for the weighty headdress and for my own head I forgot her warning and didn't "duck" as I went down to find my elephant. I nearly got fired on the spot, too when they saw me dragging that queen's train along the sawdust. The manager told me to pick it up quickly and not to ruin any more feathers either.

Then I met Freda. Freda by the way doesn't care for strange queens and she lunged her trunk at me in a savage way. The queen next me told me to be careful because Freda likes to stampede. I looked at my train and felt of my hat and wondered what I'd look like if Freda suddenly got a fit of temperament.

The boy who leads the big elephants in the circus got me a narrow red ladder to climb on. About half way to the top I stopped for breath and chanced to look down. All at once my head began to go round and my hat got wobbly. I started for another rung up the ladder and my train got caught.

Elevators—That's What's Needed

After getting untangled I started for the top again. Then my foot slipped. The shoes I had on were too big for me and the right one kept falling off. Finally I reached Freda's back, but there was still another perch to make. I sat down cross-legged on the velvet robed back and rested for a minute. Then I climbed to the top draped the train over the back and waving my fan started on the grand parade.

The circus music blared and I began to feel as if I really were a queen. "Oh boy" I thought striking a triumphant note when crash! bang! my head and its fan of feathers hit the doorway to the big arena. I had forgotten to "duck."

But now we were moving out under the top. Swaying gently to the music Freda bore me along as I clung to the arms of the elephant throne. The arms felt like balustrades on the pyramids.

And way down below numerous little boys and girls, chewing on crackerjack and drinking pop seemed as if they were pygmies. Blue and red ballonos floating in the air resembled tiny-colored marbles and I felt very "high hat" indeed.

EXPLAINS WONDERFUL WORK DONE BY WORLD'S TONIC

World's Tonic Man Says Benefits May Seem Remarkable, But That It Must Be Remembered Nothing Like World's Tonic Has Ever Been Offered Public Before

"Many Catarrh sufferers of New Castle and vicinity may be a bit skeptical about the truly amazing benefits World's Tonic is bringing catarrh victims in all parts of this section," said the World's Tonic man at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. yesterday.

"The truth is I don't blame them for being skeptical. They've probably been taking medicine after medicine for years without any apparent relief for their catarrh, and after their experience with these other preparations you can't blame them for being doubtful about any catarrh treatment that is being offered the public.

"But I want to tell these people that every word that is now appearing in the newspapers about the benefit World's Tonic has brought catarrh sufferers is absolutely the whole truth, and World's Tonic is bringing such amazing results just simply because nothing like it has ever been offered the public for catarrh before.

"Why, World's Tonic isn't a pill or a cigarette to smoke and blow through your nose or a little bottle of liquid or anything like that. World's Tonic is a systemic catarrh treatment. It took several years to get it perfected. It fights catarrh not only in the head, nose and throat, but also at its very source—within the system where catarrh originates.

"It is so complete and so thorough in its work that catarrh sufferers begin to notice improvement in a very short time after they start using World's Tonic and seldom use as much as two bottles without securing amazing benefit.

"So that's why I have said right along that it doesn't make any difference how many catarrh medicines you may have tried in the past without results. You never tried anything like World's Tonic. Just give World's Tonic a trial—get a bottle today and use it according to directions—and it will help you." Chamberlin Lands At Hartford, Conn.

Crew Of Bremen Pass Up Hartford On Way To Washington For Bennett's Funeral

(International News Service)

HARTFORD, Conn., April 27.—The trans-Atlantic aviators today passed up Hartford and flew along the Hudson toward New York.

Clarence Chamberlin, who on Monday flew from Hartford to Quebec to greet the visitors, returned as a messenger this afternoon with the news of their intended route. "They are all in good health," Chamberlin declared when he stepped from his machine on Brainerd Field.

EXHIBIT LOCAL DOGS AT SHOW

J. C. Hoover, chairman of the bench show committee of the Lawrence County Kennel club, Raymond M. George, Thomas O'Brien and the veteran dog handler Dad Lyon left by automobile early this morning for New Kensington taking dogs that are to be exhibited at a dog show opening there today.

Mr. Hoover is exhibiting his Cocker Spaniels, Mr. O'Brien English Setters and Mr. George, Collies.

Dad Lyon is handling these dogs and expects to "fetch in a fist full" of blue ribbons for their proud owners. Besides these Dad will handle a number of canines for kennel men and dog owners in New Kensington.

All of the dogs being shown in New Kensington will be on exhibition at the dog show to be held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral in May and one of the main objects of the visit to New Kensington by the local men is to advertise and secure entries for the local event.

Rotarians And Rotary Anns Have Great Day Thursday

Ladies Visit Pottery Plant In New Castle; Lunch At Cathedral And Have Tea Later

Banquet At Cathedral Is High Spot In Convention Of 33d District In New Castle

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., April 27.—Almost two thirds per cent of the local Rotary Club has been attending the sessions and social functions of the 33rd District of Rotary Clubs convention in New Castle, today being the last day.

Thursday was an especial day, with a number of the Rotary Anns visiting the Shenango Pottery plant in New Castle in the morning; enjoying a luncheon at the Cathedral at noon, and later motoring to Westminster college for tea. Thursday evening a banquet with covers laid for about 1500 members and wives, took place at the Catheral. Strickland Gilliland, a noted speaker from Washington, D. C., was the orator of the evening, bringing an interesting message to the members.

Many of the local ladies attended the Breakfast-Bridge this morning at The Castleton. Among those attending the festivities yesterday from Ellwood City, were: Mrs. H. D. Patterson, Mrs. J. A. Gelbach, Mrs. Edward Mackasek, Mrs. Ray Aylesworth, Mrs. J. W. Humphrey, Mrs. Harold Seidel, Mrs. W. W. Seidel and Mrs. Oscar Dahl.

Mrs. Bruce Hunter Entertains At Bridge-Luncheon

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27.—Mrs. Bruce Hunter of West Short street entertained at a bridge-luncheon on Thursday afternoon with covers laid for 12 guests. Her aides were Mrs. Harold Seidel and Mrs. Roy Hamilton and the tables were centered with pink rose-buds with tallies to match. At the conclusion of a delicious menu, three tables of bridge were in play. High score honors went to Mrs. Harold Seidel and Mrs. W. W. Seidel.

Those enjoying the event were Mesdames W. W. Seidel, Charles French, Carl Hayes, Harold Seidel, George Pugh, Rolland Haines, Ralph Evans, Roy Hamilton, Henry Schenck, B. M. Lawther, B. J. Bell and Frank Moltrup of Beaver Falls.

Mrs. Gold Is Club Hostess Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., April 27.—Mrs. H. S. Gold, of Wayne avenue, entertained the members of the Thursday evening Bridge club at her home last night.

Special guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bowater and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harris. Three tables of bridge were in play, with Mr. and Mrs. Krauth and Mrs. Bowater winning score honors. Later the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Krauth and Mrs. Painter, served a delicious chinese menu which was as palatable as it was unusual.

A surprise feature of the meeting was the invitation of Miss Lilian Harvery, sister of Mrs. Frank Huffman, of Ewing Park, who invited the club to meet with her on May 19th, in Beaver Falls. She and Dr. Busse, who is also a member of the club, are to be married early in May, and will entertain the club in their new home at Riverview, Beaver Falls.

Teacher Whipped

Citizens have demanded that Miss Thelma Collins, 19, above, give up teaching "West 82" school near Powhattan, Kan. Miss Collins is alleged to have whipped a 14-year-old girl pupil for cursing in school. Then the girl's mother whipped the teacher and tore part of her clothes off. The mother has been sentenced to a year's term in the state penitentiary, the pupil faces reformatory sentence for delinquency, and, now, it is desired that Miss Collins surrender her job to a man, it being said the school is "too tough" for a woman.

Kings Daughters Shower Teacher With Handkerchiefs

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27.—Thirty-five members of the King's Daughters Bible class of the United Presbyterian church conducted their monthly meeting Thursday evening in the church.

A feature of the meeting was a shower of handkerchiefs in honor of their teacher Mrs. J. A. VanGorder in appreciation of her services. The affair was a complete surprise to the honor guest and very enjoyable.

A brief business meeting was conducted with routine business being transacted. Later delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. McCullough, Mrs. Eckles and Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. Felton Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27—Mrs. Harry Felton of Franklin avenue entertained the members of her Five Hundred club Thursday evening at her home.

Three tables were in play and at the conclusion of a pleasant evening Mrs. Kemper won the joint high score honors.

Later delicious refreshments were served with rose buds as decorations. The hostess was assisted at this time by Mrs. Kemper and Mrs. Williams.

In two weeks Mrs. Longacre of Division avenue will entertain. Club members are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kemper, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Felton and Mr. and Mrs. Longacre.

Kiwanis Directors Vote Sum To Aid Re-Forestration

Prof. A. C. Edgecomb Of Geneva Gives Splendid Talk Before Kiwanis Club Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., April 27.—A feature of the business session of the Kiwanis Club was at the meeting of the Board of Directors which took place at the close of the regular dinner-meeting last night in the Lutheran church.

The directors voted favorably upon the plan of donating a sum of money for the purpose of aiding the farmers in re-forestration. These trees will be bought from the state and given to the farmers, and the planting will be done by members of the Rotary troop of Boy Scouts.

At the dinner-meeting Prof. A. C. Edgecombe, who occupies the chair of Engineering in Geneva College, was the speaker. Prof. Edgecombe is a Canadian, and came here in the interest of United States and Canada Kiwanis week. He stressed the value of the continued friendly relations between the States and Canada for so many years, and felt that they were setting a good example to other nations. He also quoted statistics concerning the miniral and agricultural resources of Canada and her progress during the past twenty-five years. He predicted in conclusion, that the friendly relations between this country and Canada would finally spread to other countries, and thus eventually bring about peaceful relations throughout the world.

Play Of South Goes Over Big

Seven Girls Present Clever True-To-Life Play At Bell Memorial Church

ELLWOOD CITY, PA., April 27.—The play, "A Southern Cinderella" put on by members of Class No. 4, of the Bell Memorial church, Thursday night, in the church, was presented to a crowded auditorium.

All the characters were letter-perfect in their various roles, and were so entirely different that each attained a stellar role. Possibly Miss Margaret Clyde, as Madame Charteris the old lady character and Miss Mester James as "Mammy Judy" stood out a little in their characters, but the entire piece was so well done that few will miss tonight's performance.

The play is presented in three acts, and action revolves about the expulsion of a daughter from her home by her wealthy parents, and her efforts to earn her own living as best she could. Later her mother is about to die, and the nurse and sister try to get possession of the fortune by fraudulant methods, which, of course, are frustrated, and the millions come to their rightful owner, and the story ends most happily.

"Carolyne Hawke", Miss Roma Menold.
"Catherine Hawke", Miss Helen Menold.
"Madame Charteris," Miss Margaret Clyde.
"Enid Bellamy," Miss Grace Irwin.
"Johnny Belle Randolph," Miss Emma Bookamer.
"Rosie Winterbury," Miss Sara Wade.
"Mammy Judy," Miss Esther James

Mrs. Feldman Is Dinner Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., April 27.—Mrs. Nathan Feldman, of Wayne avenue, entertained a group of friends Thursday evening at a Bridge-Dinner at her home. Covers were laid for twenty-four, at dainty tables, centered with vases of pink roses, with the same note carried out in the place-cards and tallies.

At the conclusion of the menu, six tables of bridge were in play. Later high score honors were awarded to Mrs. Max Rinehart, Mrs. Edward Keller, Mrs. Hersch and Mrs. Maurice Keller.

ACCEPTS POSITION IN BEAVER FALLS

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27.—Glenn Hoffman, former organist in the Majestic theatre, has accepted a position in one of the Beaver Falls theatres, his duties beginning immediately.

ORANGE LADIES.

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27.—Members of the Orange Ladies lodge will meet for regular meeting this evening in the postoffice building. Members of the degree team are expected to be present at 7 p. m. for rehearsal. Final plans for the annual banquet which will take place May 11 in the United Presbyterian church will be discussed.

Mrs. Wesley Martin is confined to her home on Spring avenue with a severe case of tonsilitis.

Publicity Body On Chest Drive Work On Pictures

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., April 27.—As part of the Community Chest Drive, which takes place this year the week of May 20th, members of the Publicity committee are planning to secure the consent of the Girl Scout leaders here to have motion pictures taken of the activities of the various Girl Scout organizations.

Joe Schuler has consented to take the pictures, and if plans progress as expected the first sunshiney day will see the girls in their uniforms doing their various drills before the "grinding lens." Mrs. B. J. Bell, a member of the Publicity committee, is in church of the Scout work.

Mrs. Adams Hostess At Bridge-Luncheon

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27.—Mrs. Charles A. Adams of Glenn avenue entertained at a bridge-luncheon at her home Thursday afternoon. Covers were laid for 32 guests at small tables decorated with crystal vases of yellow tulips, the same bright tones predominating in the place-cards and tallies. Her aides were Mrs. J. Reed Carpenter, Mrs. Sharp Jackson and Mrs. George Moyer.

During the afternoon hours six tables of bridge were in play, while the balance of the guests enjoyed kensington. High score winners were Mrs. Ferd Zeigler, Mrs. J. G. Ferguson and Miss Minnie Jenkins. Winner at the kensington was Mrs. George Rapp.

The guest list comprised Mesdames R. C. Stiefel, Sharp Jackson, Ben Gardner, Thomas Wilson, Chesley Paul, Momberg Nelson, David Cartwright, Walter Jackson, Ferd Zeigler, W. C. Kegel, Loring Gelbach, Margaret Ross, Olive Adams, W. L. Dean, Dave Evans, Charles Stiner, Tom Jones, M. A. Riley, Warren Thorpe, Charles Morrow, J. M. Barton, J. W. Boggs, E. B. Moyer, George Rapp, Martin Anderson, J. G. Ferguson, Ray Chambers, Adda Fisher, J. Reed Carpenter, George Moyer, Miss Minnie Jenkins and Miss Minnie Nelson.

SCREEN ACTRESS IS MADE DEFENDANT IN LAW SUIT ON COAST

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—Because Lila Lee signed a blank promissory note which later was filled in by her father, Carl Appel, formerly her guardian, the screen actress today is defendant in a law suit.

John Corgiat of Oakland is suing for $2,500 on the note which he says he innocently purchased. The actress, named in the suit as Mrs. James Kirkwood, contends she was under age at the time she signed the note.

Y. W. Tennis Match Thursday Evening

Miss Jennie Johnson won the tennis match played Thursday evening in the Y. W. C. A. indoor tennis tournament. Contestants were Jennie Johnson and Betty Noss.

The match was quite one-sided, probably due to the fact that Miss Noss had not practiced on the indoor court, which is only half the size of an outdoor court and therefore calls for different playing and planning. Both girls played well, Miss Johnson having a good serve and a quicker return than Miss Noss. Miss Noss lost a number of points by hitting balls that were going out and then failing to get them over. The match between Kathryn Newburn and Eileen Stone was postponed due to Mrs. Stone's inability to be there.

Score, Johnson versus Noss:
First set, 6-1, Johnson.
Second set, 6-2, Johnson.

Schedule of other matches: Saturday morning at 11 o'clock on the Y. W. floor there will be a match between Dee Reck and Leona Sankey. Monday evening matches will be played beginning at six o'clock. Contestants are Stone versus Newburn, Fleckenstein versus Brown, Allen versus Johnson and Druschell versus R. Johnson.

W. C. T. U. and L. T. L.

Executive Meeting

Monthly meeting of the executive committee of the county W. C. T. U. took place Thursday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. parlors, with the president presiding. The devotionals were led by Mrs. Jennie Forquer.

Mrs. James Blackwood was elected to fill the vacancy of Superintendent of Medical Temperance, taking the place of Mrs. Mitchell, who resigned.

An invitation was received from the Business and Professional Women's Club to attend the lecture by Judge Florence Allen in the Scottish Rite Cathedral on April 30.

Thrift Awards Are Made To Shenango School Pupils

Thrift exercises were held Friday afternoon at the Shenango township school, at which time those who have saved continuously since the system was installed last fall, received thrift certificates. A very interesting talk was made by Rev. S. B. Copeland, pastor of the Third U. P. church, who dwelt upon the importance of instilling thrift into the growing lives of the boys and girls of today who will be our citizens of tomorrow. The awards were presented by Robert M. Strickler, Jr.

The Shenango township school has done unusually well in saving this year, and has put in pennies, nickles, dimes and quarters in the thrift machine, up until the first of this month, $586.86.

As this was their first year, the awards they received were honorable mention certificates which read as follows: "For regularly saving small sums of money which required self-denial, self-control and fixed purpose, the Lawrence Savings & Trust company of New Castle, Penna., awards honorable mention. Signed, T. H. Hartman, president."

POLICE SEEKING CROTON BANDIT

Young Man Is Held-up At Croton And Ray Streets; Other Robberies

Police are searching for an auto bandit who held up and robbed Joseph Colaluca at the intersection of Croton avenue and Ray street early Thursday, escaping with $7 and a Waltham watch. The report was made public today.

According to Colaluca, he was walking in Croton avenue and noticed a Jewett car, without license plates, parked against the curb.

He noticed a man, apparently asleep in a rear seat, but when near the car the "sleeper" proved very much awake, leaped from the car and poked a gun against Colaluca.

Resume Street Car Service May 6

To Restore Car Service To Seventh Ward Week From Sunday

Street car service to Mahoningtown will be resumed May 6, according to C. C. Coulthard, local division superintendent, today. The cars will operate via South Mill street, Long avenue, Moravia street, across Gardner avenue viaduct, through Mahoning avenue to Cedar street thence to the B. & O. station. Busses which have operated via Atlantic avenue to Mahoningtown will be discontinued. A schedule is being arranged.

Auto busses were placed in service when the Gardner avenue viaduct was started.

Erect Warning Traffic Signals

Traffic Light Is Placed In Service At East And North Streets

Blinkers have been erected at Laurel and Park avenues, intersecting Highland avenue, and a traffic light has been put into commission at East and East North street.

The traffic signals recently were recommended by Police Chief Cy Horner so that school children would enjoy more safety in school zones.

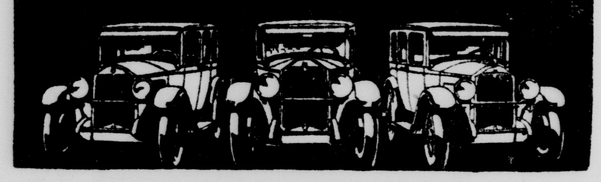
New Castle P.-O. Bowlers Feted

New Castle bowlers of the P. & O. system were guests at a system bowlers' banquet at the Petersburg Inn last night. The New Castle bowlers captured the system championship. Officials of the company and approximately 75 bowlers were in attendance.

Never Assume That The Trolley Has Passed Just Because You See Its Tracks

Here's what often happens whenever a motorist tries to turn around on car tracks without first ascertaining if anything is approaching from the opposite direction. If you must motor behind street cars, make sure that no approaching trolley is likely to crash into your own car, before you make a turn.

BUICK
RELIABLE USED CARS



What is a used car bargain?

Is it a used car of uncertain age and mechanical condition, sold at a so-called "marked down" price?

Or is it a good car, sold by a reliable dealer, for a price that he knows is fair?

We know automobiles. That's our business! And we know what they're worth when we take them in trade on new Buicks.

We always give our used car customers a square deal—both in the price and in the condition of the car.

Our reputation is too valuable to risk by anything short of absolute fairness and honesty.

Irvine Broadcasts Appeal For Clarinet Players In Schools

The clarinet, termed "the violin of the band," is being sadly neglected by the students of the New Castle schools at the present time, declares LaVerne Irvine, head of music in the high schools of the city.

Mr. Irvine cited that in one of our schools there are sixteen students taking beginners' lessons on the cornet, while there are but four or five learning to master the clarinet.

"Most of our students are taking up either the trumpet or the saxophone," he states. "There should be some learning to play the clarinet because it is the instrument which receives the most demands from musical organizations such as orchestras and bands."

"At the present time we are having some trouble in finding a place in our bands and orchestras for some of the new players, just because so many students are taking up one instrument and disregarding others altogether.

"In string instruments the viol, cello and the bass viol do not receive the attention that they should from the students who take up musical instruments. All beginners should remember that no symphony orchestra is complete without these three.

Mr. Irvine suggests that all students who plan to take up instruments, consult their parents and consider the instrument thoroughly. Consultation with a learned musician would be of great value to the beginner also.

According to Mr. Irvine the standard instrumentation for a symphonic band has been worked out by several of America's foremost musicians including John Phillip Sousa, Edwin Franko Goldman, Frederick Stock, Taylor Branson and Herbert L. Clarke. Their decision in regards to this follows:

There should be five flutes (interchangeable with piccolo).
Two E Flat clarinets.
Twenty-four more B Flat clarinets.
Two or more oboes (one doubling English Horn).
Two or more bassoons.
Five saxophones (soprano, alto, or possibly two altoes, tenor, baritone and bass). Large bands may double this number.
Four B Flat cornets.
Two or more B Flat trumpets.
Two fluegelhorns.
Four or eight French Horns.
Four or six trombones.
Two or four baritones.
Two E Flat tubas.
Four or five BB Flat tubas timpani.
Three drummers.

Students who intend to take up some instrument can study the above list and see for themselves just what instruments are most needed and what ones are not so much in demand.

Try To Figure Wage Earning

(International News Service)

BERKELEY April, 27.—A man working at pick and shovel in the wideopen spaces needs to earn only $114 a month to support a wife, while the clerk in a "white collar" job must fork over $160 every 30 days to keep the home fires burning.

These figures were revealed today by the Heller Committee for Economic Research at the University of California, which under the direction of Dr. Jessica B. Peixotto, has completed a survey of "buying habits" of society.

The clerk will find it necessary to spend about $642 a year for shelter and house operation and $585 a year for food, the committee found. He and his wife will spend $345 for clothing during the year and $454 on miscellaneous items.

The laborer's budget, prepared on simpler lines, will require $425 a year for food, $199 for clothing, $469 for shelter and house operation and $335 for miscellaneous items.

It is estimated that a stormy Sunday reduces the coroner's work by 17 per cent.

SAN FRANCISO April 27—A Lorna Barrett of Texas wanted to see the world. The chance of working as telephone operator on the Matson liner Malolo seemed to offer an opening. It offered even more opportunity than she expected.

When the liner left New York last September to enter the San Francisco-Honolulu run the ship carried a handsome dining saloon steward, Gottfried von Kronenberger. Miss Barrett, who is twenty-four, admired his looks and he admired her. By the time the ship reached San Francisco they were engaged.

They were married here and when the Malolo came back from Honolulu. Only then did the young husband inform his wife that he is entitled to a "Baron" in front of his name and that he was a flying ace during the World War.

Bootlegger And Bandit Sentenced To Die In Electric Chair

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Tony Lucitti, bootlegger and bandit, Thursday was sentenced to die in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary for the murders of Paul R. Fox and Louis O. Knapp, coal and iron policemen of the Vesta Coal Company, who were fatally wounded on the night of February 7, 1927, at Vestaburg.

Homeless Children To Utilize Parks

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, April 27.—Military brass bands of homeless children enlisted in the regular army as musicians have been hired by the Moscow town council to give open air concerts in parks and boulevards this summer. Hundreds of the same youngsters who last year hung around concerts as tattered, half-starved waifs picking the pockets of listeners, will this year be in the sands themselves in uniform tooting new instruments. The youngsters are all under 18 years of age.

The organization of military bands has been one of the most successful fields of "cultural" activity mapped out for the savage waifs of the streets. They refused to be tamed in workshops learning trades.

East Gives Way To New Trend Since Big War

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, April 27.—The eastern world is being broadened through science by its invasion of the country once ruled by Pharaohs such as King Tut.

This was the assertion made by Dr. Charles R. Watson, president of the University of Cairo, in Egypt, in an interview on a short visit to Cleveland.

"The imagination of the youth of the Orient has been stirred by his ability to see more of his country by the use of the automobile, which is able to worm its way up and down camel trails, along the banks of the Nile, in the shadow of the pyramids and uniting villages and towns so they may be reached in a short time," Dr. Watson declared.

Effect of World War

The World War was the turning point in the crusade Christianity has waged for the spiritual conquest of the world, despite the fact there are still 220,000,000 who now worship Mohammed and read his Koran, the Far East University professor explained.

"A strange passion for science now permeates the Moslem world, Dr. Watson said. He told how the "children of the East" returned to the Orient world and a "spirit of inquiry".

Modern Customs

Describing the scrapping of age-old Mohammedan religious, political and social codes as observed in Egypt, India and Turkey, Dr. Watson interestingly told his inquirers that:

1. "Women's veils have been abolished altogether in Turkey. In Egypt they wear only a very thin veil, really very bewitching.

2. "Young boys going to Christian schools refuse to marry girls they have not seen and also refuse to marry girls who cannot read nor write; (in Egypt now only seven women out of every 1,000 can read or write).

3. "The Pan-Islamic theory of the Moslem world with a reign of absolutism has given way to the rising tide of nationalism."

Dr. Watson predicted that monogomy will soon prevail in the East, where polygomy has held sway for many centuries. In the third coming generation, he prophesied, Christianity may have converted the whole eastern world.

British Naval Snobbery Cause Of Controversy

(International News Service)

PORTSMOUTH, England, April 27.—"Snobbery" in this town, headquarters of the British Navy, is causing the acutest local controversy.

Speaking at the Portsmouth Rotary club, A. A. Jacobs said there were three classes in the city:

The tradespeople.

There is, he said, an artificial barrier between the services and the tradespeople, and the professions regarded themselves as a class apart.

The tradespeople, patronized by both the services and professions, looked down upon the people whom they thought beneath them.

Shoots Burglar

When Calvin Whatley, 15 of Dallas, Tex., heard a noise in a room occupied by his little brothers and sisters he got his father's shotgun and tiptoed in. A burglar was standing beside the bed with a knife in his hand. Calvin pulled the trigger three times, but there was no report. Then the man started for the boy, and Calvin, backing out the door tried the gun again. This time it discharged and the intruder ran, leaving a bloody trail behind. Photo shows Calvin with his father's shotgun.

Marathon Dancers In Pittsburgh Are Continuing Grind

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 27.—Three lone couples, survivors of an army of more than a hundred persons who entered the national dance marathon contest, dragged themselves wearily across the floor at Motor Square Garden today, with more than 80 hours of dancing behind them—but still 65 hours from the record set recently in California.

A growing crowd swarmed about the arena as the contest seemed to be entering its final stages. More than 12,000 persons were estimated to have passed through the gates yesterday and indications were that today's attendance would pass this mark.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The "Battle Of The Washita"

TOWARD THE CLOSE OF NOVEMBER, 1868, GENERAL CUSTER WITH THE SEVENTH CAVALRY MOVED SOUTH OF THE CANADIAN RIVER IN INDIAN TERRITORY, LOOKING FOR THE VILLAGE OF THE HOSTILE CHEYENNE. HIS OSAGE GUIDES PICKED UP THE TRAIL OF A LARGE BAND LEADING TO THE WASHITA.

FOLLOWING THE TRACKS IN THE DEEP SNOW, THE SOLDIERS CAME TO A VILLAGE OF MANY TEPEES. THE PLACE WAS SURROUNDED IN THE DEAD OF NIGHT, AND IN THE EARLY DAWN, THE TROOPERS ADVANCED TO THE ATTACK IN THREE COLUMNS, THE REGIMENTAL BAND PLAYING "GARRY OWEN", THE BATTLE TUNE OF THE SEVENTH CAVALRY.

THOUGH TAKEN BY SURPRISE, THE INDIANS, WHO WERE NUMEROUS AND WELL-ARMED, FOUGHT DESPERATELY. ANOTHER BAND OF REDSKINS, ATTRACTED BY THE SOUND OF FIRING, APPEARED ON THE SCENE, BUT AFTER A FIERCE AND BLOODY FIGHT, CUSTER'S MEN ROUTED THE HOSTILES AND BURNED THE VILLAGE.

THREE HUNDRED INDIANS, INCLUDING A NUMBER OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN, WERE KILLED OR CAPTURED IN THE FIGHTING. AMONG THE SLAIN WAS THE CHEYENNE CHIEF, BLACK KETTLE, WHO HAD SURVIVED THE CHIVINGTON MASSACRE IN COLORADO FOUR YEARS BEFORE.

Cream Of Track At Philadelphia Today For Penn Carnival

Hundreds Of Track Stars From All Parts Of United States In Annual Carnival

Charlie Paddock, Fleet Californian, To Run Special 175-Yard Event Saturday

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 27.—Olympic talent, headed by Charley Paddock, the man with the furious feet, will be taken out of the cotton batting and sent for a thorough airing at the Annual Relay Carnival of the University of Pennsylvania, on Franklin Field today and tomorrow. Paddock, who established world's records on successive days at 130 and 140 yards at the Rice Relays in Texas will be kept under cover until the final day when he will be sent after his own record at 175 yards at a preliminary filip to another sortie on the Olympic dash titles this summer.

Three of Lawson Robertson's Pennsylvania sprinters will be added starters and, in all probability, added finishers. The race is without significance except as an outing for Paddock.

Osborn-Elkins Missing

Two other events on the list will have a far more definite bearing on the Olympic situation. The Decathlon contest will serve as an official trial for the American International team, and, barring one or two exceptions, the best we own will go to the post. It just happens to be too bad that the exceptions are Harold Osborn and Fait Elkins, Olympic and National champions, respectively, in the all around event. Osborn's business affairs and Elkin's illness will keep them out of the games, but the remainder of the field of twenty-eight represents the class of the country.

The headliners are Barney Berlinger, who beat both Osborn and Elkins indoors; Emerson Norton, runner up for the Olympic title; Vernon Kennedy, who won the event in 1927; Dan Kinsey, the Olympic 110-metre hurdle champion; Doherty, Detroit City College and Virgil Elliott, Bethany. All sections of the country are represented in the entries, and owing to its importance, the affair will be spread over the two days of the carnival.

The other International event, the 3,000-metre steeplechase, has been placed on the program for the first time in an effort to develop men for this kind of going from among the colleges. Bill Cox, the cross country champion and member of the 1924 Olympic team, will head the field, which also will include McMillan, of Union; Shork, of Dickinson, and Mel Dalton, of Seton Hall. The obstacles will conform with Olympic regulations, even to a fourteen-foot water jump. The race will go on late this afternoon.

Carr To Vault

On the final day, Sabin Carr, the Yale holder of the pole vault record, will make his first appearance in competition since breaking the record indoors last winter, while Alfred Bates, Penn State, and Edward Hamm, Georgia Tech, will try to get up around 25 feet in the broad jump. Both have bettered 24 fe consistently. Creoth Hines, of Georgetown, also is likely to take a fall out of the American record in the javelin.

California, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Ohio and most of the southern, New England and middle Atlantic states will be represented in the program of 102 events. Approximately 3,250 athletes will see action during the two days. Many of the important winners at the Kansas and Ohio State carnivals, including Simpson, who ran 100 yards in 9 3-5 seconds at Columbus, last Saturday, are entered.

Indiana is the stand-out favorite in the four-mile relay, in which another record is anticipated. They likewise are looking for new times in the one mile, the 440 yard and the shuttle hurdle relays, Dartmouth being expected to better the Oxford-Cambridge record made last year in the latter event. Ohio State, with a team of thirty-two individuals, is stalking a few titles and possibly a few records too.

SENIOR A'S WIN HALF-MILE RELAY

The winning of the relay by the Senior A's gives them a healthy advantage in the meet to date, but this lead is liable to be wiped out in the 120 low hurdles and 120-yard high hurdles to be staged early next week.

The time for the half-mile relay yesterday was 1:41.

Sharkey And Delaney Fight, But Boxing World Knows Not Why

On the night of April 30 a new note will be struck in the business of banging beaks and anihilating ears. A professional fight will be held just for the sake of putting on a professional fight.

Nothing at stake since the two participants, M. Ovila Chapdelaine (alias Jack Delaney on the left and Jack Sharkey (nee John Coccoskey on, but not in the right, have bee thoroughly and entirely eliminated from the heavyweight scene long be fore this bout was even thought of.

Coming as the bout does in the wake of Tex Rickard's late lamented elimination series of fights which were held to "determine a suitable opponent for the champion Gene Tunney" the match seems to be sta ed for the sole benefit of the pocketbooks of the two Jacks and the possble curiosity on the part of the public to see these two gentlemen exchange the courtesies of the pugilistic profession.

In the elimination tournament Jack Delaney was soundly trounced by a slow and genial fellow named Heeney who since has been given a contract which entitles him to make sundry passes and strike various blows at the regal personage of the aforementioned champion Gene Tunney.

From Madison Square Garden where the bout is to take place come fresh bulletins to the effect that both Jacks are eager to stage a comeback and are seeking this bout as such a means. The question of course is "why?"

Risko who won the right to meet Heeney in the finals of the heavyweight "elimination" is really no better off than either Sharkey or Delaney. True Rickard conferred on Johnny the honor of being "alternate" at the Heeney-Tunney battle but this will net Risko nothing more than a free seat at the ringside.

It is quite possible that the winner of the Delaney-Sharkey piece may be honored by Rickard by being named the assitant alternate at the battle. But this is hardly likely as Rickard is not so apt to give away two free seats at any of his shows.

New Castle High Not Sending Relay Team To Carnival

Owing to the lack of material, Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh was forced to cancel the proposed trip to the University of Pennsylvania Relay Carnival. The carnival opens today.

For three years straight New Castle High made the trip to the relays and brought back trophies in their class. The trip was not made last year due to the lack of material and unless some of the under-classmen can be developed in the next year, the New Castle boys are liable to forget about the mile relay races of Philadelphia.

Inter-Class Track Meet On Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 27.—Despite cold weather and rain which have made a veritable sea of mud of the Westminster track, candidates for the United Presbyterian track team have been working out daily in preparation for the inter-class meet to be run off Saturday afternoon, weather permitting.

Coach Graham has been emphasizing form rather than speed, heighth or distance in the workouts to date, and believes that his squad of 45 men is in good condition. If the tracksters are blessed with some warm weather soon, it is possible that the men will be in the very best condition for the opening meet here Saturday, May 5, when Allegheny college is met.

Captain Bill Hartwell, speed demon, has been suffering from a cold as has been Elmer Myers, distance runner, and Adrian Dible, quarter miler. Andrew Perrine, two miler, has been bothered with sore legs, a thing which kept him out of cross country competition last fall. Aside from this, the blue and white cinder men are fit and ready.

The inter-class meet on Saturday will be run off starting at 2:15 in the afternoon. John Lawther, head basketball coach, will be official starter, and the following members of the managerial staff will assist as judges: Manager Claire Swisher, Assistants John Trevaskis, Gordon Mack, Kenneth Griffin, Tom Cameron, Conwell Dague and James Stewart.

Ghost Writer Does Pen Work Of Jack Dempsey

Jack Dempsey, on the stand the other day, admitted that the newspaper articles that bear his name are not written by him and that he very seldom reads them. They are, he said, the work of a special writer furnished by the syndicate which sells them, the kind of writer who is known in the profession as a "ghost."

And he might have added that this kind of writer has reached such eminence that he furnishes the Nation with a large part of its literature. Almost every man of prominence has a "ghost" nowadays. He has so many demans for articles telling how he made a success in life; books which deal with the business he is in; pamphlets which set forth his views for the benefit of some Congressional sub-committee, that he simply has not got the time to comply with them all. Of course, this being a free country, he could easily deal with the situation by saying no. But this is not only a free country. It is a highly educated country, having a very low percentage of illiteracy. It likes to read, and especially it likes to read matter which emanates from the great, the near-great and the pseudo-great. And it pays fat prices for the privilege. So the man of prominence has found a happy way out. He merely sends for the "ghost," outlines in a broad way what he wants to say, and the "ghost" in his turn tackles the mechanical job of putting it into words, often polishing off in two weeks a 60,000-word book embodying the reflections of a lifetime.

Of course there are those who allege that this kind of stuff lacks the high polish, the translucent color of real literature. And there are others who allege that it had just as well never have been written, for all that anybody cares about it. But it brings in the money, and that is the main point. So, as nearly as we can make out, the "ghost" is a thoroughly useful citizen, and no doubt will have his occupation recognized as a real profession before the world is very much older.—New York World.

Grove City Track Team To Meet Tech Saturday Afternoon

Ralph Day, Former New Castle High Star Is Pole Vaulter With Grovers

GROVE CITY, Pa., April 27.—Coaches McEuen and Burrowes have been holding trial tests this week in the various track and field events, for the grove City college track squad. The intra-mural meet scheduled for last Saturday was called off because of rain. Hence these trial tests have been necessary in order to choose the squad which will make the trip to Carnegie Tech tomorrow.

It appears from the results of this week that the Crimson squad will be a little better than the squad of last spring. In Bartlebaugh, Day, Evans, McClosky and Thomas the Crimson coaches have men who will push all opponents in their respective events. Others in college are expected to develop after better weather comes along.

National League Race Tightens Up

But Two Games Separate Leaders In Heydler Circuit From Last Place Team

ROOKIE PITCHER HURLS FINE GAME

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 27.—With the league-leading New York Giants holding an advantage of only two games over the last last-place Boston Braves the National league race today is tighter than a 79-cent shirt after the first wash. This intriguing state of affairs was brought about yesterday when three second division clubs, Boston, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, defeated three first division outfits—Brooklyn, New York and Cincinnati.

The feature event in the American league was Philadelphia's fifth straight win. After losing their first four games, the Athletics have jumped to third place.

Brandt Pitches Well.

Ed Brandt, southpaw obtained by the Boston Braves from Seattle, is beginning to stand out as one of the few pitching finds of the season. The big Dutchman held the Brooklyn Robins to a pair of measly singles yesterday and whitewashed them 4 to 0. Dazzy Vance was the victim.

Influenza is keeping six members of the Braves out of the lineup. They are Hornsby, Robertson, Wertz, Bob Smith, John Cooney and Burrus.

The walloping Waner boys led the attack with five hits between them as Pittsburgh battered Cincinnati to the tune of 7 to 2. Carmen Hill chalked up his first victory of the season.

Augie Walsh of Wildwood, N. J., held the Giants to five hits and beat them 5 to 4. Chick Thompson got four hits.

The wrecking crew of the New York Yankees put on a six-run rally in the eighth to trounce the Boston Red Sox, 9 to 4. Al Shealy, rookie pitcher, went the route for the winners, boosting the mound strength of the world's champions.

Cleveland stayed with the pace by swamping Detroit, 6 to 1. Young George Grant walked seven Detroit batters but stood for no nonsense in the pinches.

Cleveland is using Louis Fonseca at first base in place of George Burns and the former Cincinnati second baseman has slammed out five hits in two games.

Senators Slump.

With all Washington gazing skyward for a sight of the German fliers, the Senators are fast burrowing toward the American league cellar. They suffered their fourth straight defeat in losing to the Athletics, 10 to 0, chiefly as a result of the efforts of three of baseball's oldest veterans. Old Jack Quinn's spitball worked perfectly and Daddy Tris Speaker and Grandpa Ty Cobb each drove in three runs.

Blue and Schulte each hit a home run as the St. Louis Browns nosed out the White Sox, 6 to 5.

The Cardinals and Cubs did not play.

Records May Fall At Geneva Meet On Saturday Afternoon

Geneva Track Team To Meet With West Virginia Saturday

Reeves Field track records are apt to fall when Geneva meets the Mountaineers. The high jump, broad jump, pole vault, half mile, two-mile marks look to be in danger, mostly from the onslaught of West Virginia men. One mark that is sure to go is the hammer throw. Keefer is a consistent 140-foot heaver. Geneva expects to take a hand in boosting the high jump, javelin and half-mile mark. In any case an interesting meet is on tap for the fans, particularly in the middle distances and sprints will there be spirited competition. The eyes of the fans should be on Stender, crack Mountaineer distance runner, and on Montgomery, crack dash man. These two boys are stars of the first magnitude and did very well at the Ohio relays last Saturday. West Virginia also has an excellent discus thrower in Kirchner, who throws the platter well over 130 feet. With the loss of Hubbard Geneva is weak in this event and also has no outstanding dash man to fill Bill Butler's shoes.

The Reeves Field track is in excellent shape and if the weather is fine will lead itself to record-breaking performances. The meet is in charge of officials capable of handling it in an efficient manner. The high hurdles and pole vault are called for 2:15.

Oo-La-La' — By Feg Murray

Who was the most graceful and one of the best second basemen in all baseball history? "Larry" Lajoie, who played with the Cleveland Indians from 1902-1914, before that with the Phillies for five years, and afterwards with the Athletics for two years. Now, then, who is the most promising young second baseman in the American League, one who, in only two seasons has already established himself as a star, and who has already been compared with Lajoie in his brilliancy as an all-around player? Tony Lazzeri, Yankee second baseman. Notice the similarity in the last names? LA-joie and LA-zzeri!

During Napoleon Lajoie's 21 years in big league baseball he made the amazing record of hitting .300 or better against 21 different major league clubs. He led Ban Johnson's new organization in batting in 1901 with an average of .405 and repeated in 1903, 1904 and 1905. On May 10, 1897 he socked Red Donohue for a single, a double and two homers in five tries. He once hit three triples in one game, and another time scored three men on a single! No wonder that Walter Johnson called him "the best batter I ever faced".

Lajoie formerly held the record for two-base hits, knocking out 651 of them in his career in the majors. Tris Speaker now holds the record. Let's see what Tony Lazzeri has done in this line. He hit 28 doubles in 1926 and 29 last year. Compare this with Lajoie's 11 in 1896 and 36 in 1897, his first two seasons. Tony should get better and better for many years to come. Last year he improved his 1926 record in runs, hits and stolen bases, and batted 34 points higher. Kept out of the first few games of 1928 by a lame back, he should more than make up for lost time, and perhaps, at some distant date, even out-Lajoie Lajoie!

Feg Murray Says:

Entered in the 1928 Kentucky Derby is a chestnut colt named Rumpelstiltskin, by Yellow Dwarf, out of Mademoiselle Mai. If anyone knows of any mama and daddy and baby Pullman cars with names that can catch these three, he or she will be rewarded with one hand-embroidered rain check to the 1927 Dundee-Hudkins fight.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

Took time enough from baseball the other night to watch Strangler Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champ, go through the motions of defeating another opponent.

Lewis met and defeated his opponent in 13 minutes, scoring the first fall in 10 minutes and the second in three. Both by the aid of Lewis' well-known and much discussed headlock.

"No man I have ever met has been permanaently injured by the headlock, as brutal as it may seem. As a matter of fact, it isn't as brutal as the toe-hold or one or two other common grips," said Lewis.

"Joe Stecher was out of the game for three months after our match in New York a few years ago, but not from the headlock itself. In throwing him for the fall I dropped him on his shoulder. The nerves of that shoulder were paralyzed for a time.

Spring training for major league ball players and prospects of late years is a matter of settling down with the set of the team in one of the country's winter play spots, and with all the service that modern hotels can provide, and with all the modern conveniences and appliances at the ball parks to relieve the monotony of the daily workout.

But Charley E. Walton, now postmaster at Columbus, Ga., wants to ask the present Redlegs if they would have gotten a kick out of training under the old conditions.

"Then we used to heat the water for the team in a big sap kettle and dip it into washtubs for them after the daily workouts," he adds.

The Cinci Reds trained at Columbus back in the days when Buck Ewing was manager, Biddy McPhee, Heinie Peitz, old Breitenstein and other way-back-whenners were in their heyday.

"Nobody bothered about showers then," says Walton.

"If the weather was cold we built a fire in an old wood-burning stove. But the weather had to be cold before we did it.

"There weren't any autos then to haul the players to and from the park. They walked."

Hank O'Day, during his brief reign as pilot of the Reds, some 14 or 15 years ago, took the team back to Georgia, but training conditions had improved greatly by that time.

EDDIE ROUSH

Edd J. Roush, veteran outfielder of the New York Giants, was born May 8, 1893, at Oakland City, Ind.

He started as a pitcher with the Evansville club, of the Kitty league, in 1912, and in 1913 stuck with the club when it moved up into the Central league.

The same year the Chicago White Sox obtained him from the Hoosier club and farmed him to Lincoln in the Western league. However, Roush jumped to Indianapolis, of the Federal league, in 1914, and the following year went to Newark in the outlaw circuit.

Reinstated when the league died, in 1916, Roush was taken on by the New York Giants, who traded him with Christy Mathewson and Bill McKechnie to Cincinnati for Buck Herzog and Wade Killefer.

In 1919, Roush played in his only World Series, when the Reds met the White Sox. He was sent back to the Giants and joined them in 1917, where he has played since.

Roush bats and throws left-handed, stands five feet, 11 inches in height and weights about 175 pounds. His life big league batting average is .330.

Tex Rickard got his start by promoting the Battling Nelson-Joe Gans fight at Reno, Nev.

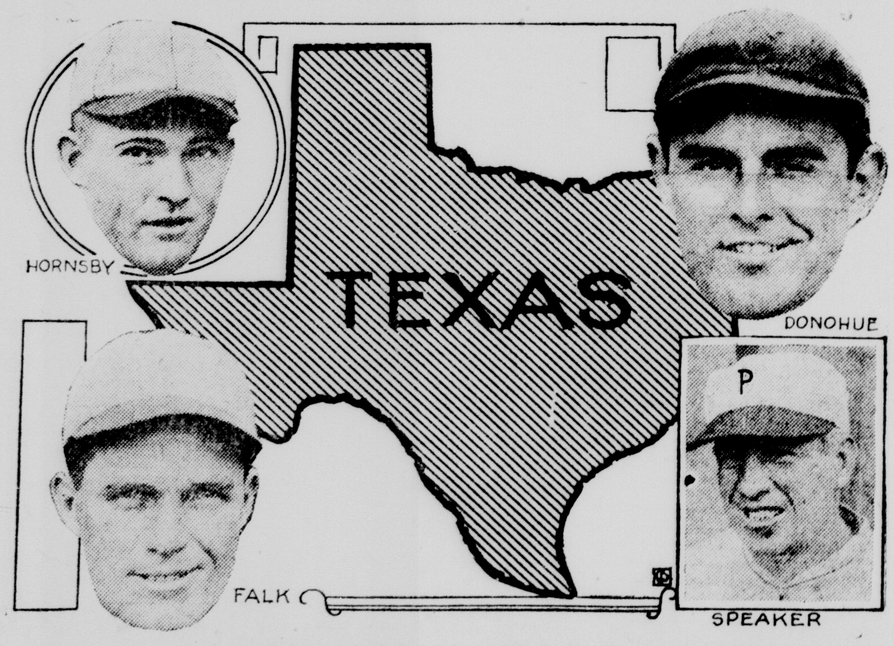
TEXAS CALLED BASEBALL STAR PRODUCING CENTER



Texas, largest in area of all the United States, also claims to be the largest producer of baseball talent in the world. Tris Speaker, Rogers Hornsby, Pete Donohue, Bib Falk are only a few of the many who have gone up to the big leagues from the Lone Star state.

Compston Leads Walter Hagen In British Match

International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOOR PARK, HERTFORDSHIRE, Eng., April 27.—Archie Compston, star English professional, created a sensation in the golfing world today by ending the first 18 of his 72 hole match for a $5,000 purse 4 up on Walter Hagen, who has the reputation of being the world's greatest match player.

Compston took an early and sensational lead, becoming 2 up in the first three holes, 4 up in six, and 5 up at the end of the first nine. He went out in a miracle 32 to Hagen's 39. Coming home Hagen showed his old form and played great golf, although he only picked up one hole, ending the first round 4 down.

The cards:

	Out
Hagen	5	4	3	39
Compston	4	4	3	32
	In
Hagen	3	4	4	34—73
Compston	3	4	4	35—67

What is a used car bargain? Is it a used car of uncertain age and mechanical condition, sold at a so-called "marked down price" or is it a good car, sold by a reliable dealer, for a price that he knows is fair? We know automobiles. That's our business! And we know what they're worth when we take them in trade on new Buicks. We always give our used car customers a square deal—both in the price and in the condition of the car. Our reputation is too valuable to risk by anything short of absolute fairness and honesty.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 27.A boiling market for the railroad, motor and specialty stocks at the beginning of trading today was the stock market's first response to the official announcement of the sale of Wabash and Lehigh Valley stocks to the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the withdrawal of L. F. Loree from the Eastern Trunk Line Railroad consolidation field.

New York Central continued its brilliant upward movement and sold close to 190, the highest price in the history of the road, and new gains of a point or more were scored by a number of the so-called dividend rails.

General Motors reached ahead to 191 1-2 for a 4-point gain in the first hour. Wright Aero reached a new peak at 150, following reports of successful testing of new and improved motors and ships for commercial and other uses. American Can, Chrysler Motor, Victor Talking Machine, Consolidated Gas, Hupp Motors, National Cash Register and other spectulative favorites moved up confidently.

Transactions in the first hour were above 1,000,000 shares, with increasing activity of industrial and railroad stocks. Call money in supply at 5 per cent.

Local Boy Honored At Carnegie Tech

Richard W. Deverell, son of Mrs. Fred P. Deverell of North Jefferson street, a student in Carnegie Tech, has been signally honored by the members of his class. Mr. Deverell has been elected treasurer of the junior class for next year and this automatically makes him a member of the student council.

He has also been elected vice president of Sigma Phi Epsilon and representative to the Inter-Fraternity council. Through his duties in the school orchestra he has been pledged to Phi Mu Sinfonia, this being a national honorary musical fraternity.

A Hoover Candidate

Following Herbert Hoover's victory in the Ohio primary, obtaining a majority of the presidential delegates of the state, Congressman Theodore Burton, of Cleveland, Hoover supporter and former United States senator, looms as a candidate for the senatorial nomination in opposition to Senator Simeon D. Fess, Republican keynoter.

Small Arsenal Is Uncovered In Home Of Train Robber

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 27.—Two machine guns, several shotguns, ten sticks of dynamite with caps and fuses, several bombs, $9,000 in cash and hundreds of rounds of ammunition were seized by federal agents at the home of "Limping Charley" Cleaver, indicted as leader of the $133,000 Grand Trunk train holdup at Evergreen Park last February.

The raid, staged yesterday, was announced by federal authorities today. The cache, revealed by a woman, had been built into the Cleaver home. In another secret hiding place in the Cleaver barn was discovered a quantity of dynamite.

Two School Board Members Now Face Ouster Proceedings

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 27.—Hanover township politics flamed anew today when proceedings were started to oust A. E. Adams and Stanley Czajkowski, members of the school board, on charges of accepting bribes for the advancement of teachers.

Stolen Chickens Sold In This City

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., April 27.—Three twenty year old youths are held in the Mercer county jail on charges of stealing chickens. It is alleged that they are guilty of raids on a chicken coop in liberty township in March, and that they sold the chickens stolen in New Castle for $10.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

One of the national weekly magazines this week carries an article by Chase, the celebrated American artist, who you may remember, went to France during the World War to paint the pictures of American heroes.

It is an interesting article, and one paragraph deals with a New Castle lad who won the D. S. C. for bravery, Charles Cameron, or as you may know him, Dick Cameron.

The paragraph goes on to remark about little Charley Cameron, who raced around a trench, yelling at the top of his voice to convince the enemy that they were surrounded.

Dick Cameron served with Col. Teddy Roosevelt, Jr. The incident in the trench was only one of his exploits. At another time, with two shells left in his forty-five, he killed a German, wounded another, and then yelled to them that if they didn't surrender he would kill them all. It was just a case of good old Yankee bluff, but it succeeded and this little bit of a lad marched a flock of burley Germans into headquarters.

Dick got a D. S. C. for that bit of work, but later on he got a bullet in his lung, and still carries it.

Here's a chance for you to lend a helping hand. On next Thursday, the New Castle High school band goes to Grove City to compete in the band contests there. The youngsters have to have transportation and your car would help carry them. Will you loan the use of your car for that afternoon to carry band boys over? If you will, call La Verne Irvine at the Senior High school and tell him so. It will be a service much appreciated.

Here's something else. The Rotary Club of New Castle is sponsoring Boys Week and Sunday is Go-To-Church Day and the Rotarians want you to take your boy or boys to church. Makes no difference what church it is, just so you go to church. Take the youngster with you, to all of the services. It will do you a lot of good and encourage the lad to attend regularly.

The Friday Feeders met on Thursday this week. The guest of honor was Strickland Gilliland, who to my way of thinking, is one of the cleverest American humorists extant. You have heard "Off Agin, On Agin, Gone Agin, Finnegan." Gilliland wrote it and as long as humorous poems are read, this will be popular.

As he tells it, this poem is just a setting down of the tale his father told him. Gilliland, Sr., was Irish, a native of Belfast, and he never lost the brogue. Strick himself carries the evidences of his Irish ancestry and some of the tales he told across the board yesterday had the Friday Feeders chuckling in their soup.

The Rotarians leave us today, after a most successful conference. The visitors have been delighted with New Castle, with the hospitality shown them, with the splendid facilities for the conference with the precision with which the arrangements moved off, and with the complete success of every detail.

Every member of the New Castle club is deserving of a personal vote of thanks. Any conference that brings in the type of men the Rotary Club does, and that puts it over with such a bang, means a lot to the City of New Castle.

The Rotary Club usually does things well. This conference is merely one more evidence of their ability to do things.

MEMORIAL DAY COMMITTEE TO MEET

There will be a committee meeting of the general committee in charge of the Memorial Day plans on Monday evening April 30. The meeting will be at the American Legion Home at 8 o'clock.

Liberty bonds must be astonished when they observe the kind of democracy they made the world safe for.

FARM FACTS

TIMELY REMINDERS From The Pennsylvania State College

Follow Plan in Work—The successful farmer plans his work and never procrastinates when the time for doing things arrives. In this way every operation is cared for promptly, nothing is sacrificed because of delays or lack of time, and above all he always has time to take the family for short vacations at various times. Life on the farm thus becomes more enjoyable each year.

Kill Borers in Stalks—A source of possible reinfestation of this year's crop with corn borers is cornstalks stored in barns. Some of the borers brought in from infested fields may die as the result of the drying out of the stalks during the winter, but in order to keep the number of moths flying in June to a low enough number to prevent commercial damage to this year's crop, all stalks should be taken out and burned, or finely cut or shredded as soon as possible. To kill borers by cutting, the machine should be adjusted to cut the stalks into pieces not more than one-half inch long.

Take Care of Machines—Spring is the time when the farmer is glad he greased and oiled all working parts of the field machinery when he put it away last year.

Where Wheat Is Dead—Clover may be sowed in fields where the wheat has winter killed, say farm crops specialists of the Pennsylvania State College, or the soil may be worked up well and oats or barley sowed. Some farmers will plant soybeans for leguminous hay.

Observe Forest Week—April 22 to 28 has been designated as American Forest Week. Everyone can help conserve and promote forests. It is a duty none should shirk.

TWO FIREMEN DIE IN BLAZE

(International News Service)

PATERSON, N. J., April 27—Two firemen were killed and twelve injured today in a fire in Lynn's department store building here when an explosion caused a floor to collapse. One of the dead firemen's body was recovered.

The dead firemen were Marinus Baker and Edward Tribe.
